Row Looms Over Small Nations in U.N. Assembly

Americans to Make Demand Assembly Has Right to Discussion

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—A clash appeared to be developing today between the United States and Russia over the right of the United Nations General Assembly to discuss small nation proposals for ending the big power veto in the Security Council.

The American delegation, in a meeting today under the leadership of Chief Delegate Warren Austin, decided that it would insist upon the full right of the assembly to discuss this and two other issues listed on a provisional agenda now before the assembly's steering committee.

This means that the United States is preparing to argue for full discussion of a proposal which it intends in the end to be against The delegation favors rejecting all efforts to eliminate the great power veto, and in this respect is lined up with Russia. But it intends to try to restrict use of the veto and on that point likely will be in disagreement with Russia.

The steering committee, American informants said, is expected to meet late today or tomorrow to go over the list of 53 main items of assembly business which are supposed to come up once general debate, beginning today, is ended early next week.

Russian Opposition

In an informal meeting of the steering committee two days ago, Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky indicated — though American informants said he did not make it final—that Russia would oppose assembly discussions of:

Australian and Cuban proposals for ending the veto voting system by amending the charter.

A South African proposal for annexing the mandate of Southwest Africa. (The United States may or may not afvor this project, but thinks it should be discussed.)

A Canadian plan for limiting assembly debate to 10 minutes per speaker and otherwise speeding up procedure. (The United States is reported opposed to the plan, but feels it should be permitted to come up in the meeting.)

Entirely Logical

The Russian desire to block discussion of these items was described by American officials as entirely logical from the Russian viewpoint. Normal Soviet procedure on proposals to which they are opposed is to fight those proposals from the moment they first come up. The United States, on the other hand, upholds the principle of free discussion as an end in itself, regardless of the American view on the matter to be discussed.

President Truman opened the assembly meeting here yesterday.

Mr. Truman disclosed the main lines of American policy on the veto issue in his speech. In it he also pledged that the United States "to the full limit of its

Prominent Speakers at Republican Rally

Last night's Republican rally at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium drew a large audience. The rally was highlighted by addresses by Lieut. Governor Joe R. Hanley and Major General William J. Donovan. Prominent at the rally, reading from left, were Assemblyman John F. Wadlin; Congressman Jay Le Fever; Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein; Lieut. Governor Hanley; Major General Donovan; Senator Arthur H. Wicks; District Attorney Louis Bruhn and Jay Rifenbary, candidate for County Treasurer. All speakers with the exception of Major General Donovan are candidates. The general spoke here in behalf of Irving M. Ives, candidate for U. S. Senate, who was unable to be present.

Hanley Says Dewey Record Best in State; Donovan Cites Splits

Hanley Declares New York's Gain in Housing Alone Three Times That of Federal Construction as Answer to Crisis

Labeling the Democratic party conception of government as "borrow money, spend it, then borrow more," Lieutenant Governor Joe R. Hanley of Perry, N. Y., told a Republican rally of more than 1,000 at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium last night that he had lost all trust in the administration at Washington.

"The government belongs to the people," he said "not the people to the government" as he pointed out that New York state's record reveals the Dewey administration has handled its affairs with efficiency and as regards the housing crisis "has built three times as many houses as has the federal government."

Major General William J. Donovan, sharing the rostrum with Hanley, said in his address supporting Irving M. Ives for the U. S. Senate that "two forces are locked in combat for the control of the Democratic party, and the American people must pay the cost."

"The cleavage in the Democratic party," he said "is a conflict between two completely antagonistic ideologies. One is the traditional American belief in private ownership and the freedom of the individual. The other is the alien doctrine of the all powerful state, of collectivism."

The other speakers on the program were Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein, Congressman Jay LeFevre, Senator Arthur H. Wicks, who presided; Assemblyman John F. Wadlin, District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, Jay W. Rifenbary, candidate for county treasurer, and Coroner Arthur C. Chipp.

In vivid word pictures Lieut. Gov. Hanley painted the forward strides made by the state in the past four years of Republican administration in caring for both veteran and civilian, as compared with the muddle in which the Democratic administration at Washington found itself.

"You have seen what the planned economy of the Democratic administration has given you in these years of shortages," he told his audience. "I have lost all trust in the administration at Washington. The Democratic idea of government is borrow money and spend it; then borrow some more."

"At Albany we honestly and sincerely believe that the government belongs to the people; not the people to the government, and we intend to keep it that way.

"When you have neither the votes nor the power you can promise anything. That is what Jim Mead is doing" said Lieut. Gov. Hanley, referring to the Democratic candidate for governor.

"The record of the past four years at Albany is the record of the Republican Party, and we are proud of it," he declared. "The Republican Party is the party of Americanism. We do not hold with Communism, but you can be assured that every Communist in the state is voting the Democratic ticket this fall.

"We in Albany believe in a government that can be both humane and businesslike at the same time. The Democrats have been worrying about the surplus of state funds. They do not know what a surplus is, but they are well acquainted with deficits.

Housing Program

"The Republican Party is planning to take care of the ill and needy, and has met the housing crisis by embarking on a large scale emergency housing program for the veterans.

"Down in Washington they have used up all the letters in the adphabet in forming the countless agencies and departments they have set up in the past decade. Now they have a housing expediter, but here in New York state the Republican administration has built three times as many houses as has the federal government.

"The Democrats in this political campaign are making many promises of what they will do for the veterans, but we are proud to report that no other state has done as much for the veteran as New York.

"With direct and immediate action we met the housing crisis by embarking on a large scale emer-

Dewey Declares Democrats Using Crisis for Politics

Governor Strikes at His Opponents' Failure to Build Houses for Our Veterans

Elmira, Oct. 24 (AP)—Governor Dewey today accused the Democrats of trying to make "political capital out of the distress of our people in the housing shortage."

The Democrats were responsible over the years for the shortage," he asserted in a prepared speech at the dedication of a temporary housing project designed to accommodate the families of 140 veterans.

"There are even those who would like to make capital out of this, the most difficult problem of our time in the whole country," Dewey maintained, he did not elaborate on this point.

But he rejected "those counsels," and said his administration had "marched steadily forward cooperating with every agency—city, county and federal."

"We want veterans living in homes—not on hopes or on promises," the governor declared.

Dewey has struck back repeatedly this week at Democratic charges that he has let the veterans down on housing. He dwelt on the subject Monday in Schenectady, the same night in a statewide broadcast from Albany. Tuesday night at Syracuse and yesterday at the dedication of Sampson College.

To Speak at Binghamton

He is expected to discuss the subject again tonight in a re-election campaign speech at Binghamton, at the dedication of a housing project at Youngstown tomorrow and probably again Saturday night at a Republican rally in Buffalo, home city of his opponent, Senator James M. Mead.

An informed source predicted today that the governor, if re-elected, would recommend in the 1947 Legislature an additional appropriation of several million dollars to complete his emergency housing program for veterans.

Virtually all of the $35,000,000 appropriated by the 1946 Legislature has been spent or committed for 7,500 temporary housing units

Two Children Die In Fire Last Night At East Durham

Family Home Is Burned to Ground; Their Charred Bodies Are Found

The charred bodies of the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Hilloicoss were found in the family home at East Durham, which was burned to the ground in a fire that broke out at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The children were Floyd John, Jr., aged three years, and his sister, Shirley, aged two years.

The fire was investigated by Dr. Alton B. Daley of Athens, coroner of Greene county; Corporal Fred Knight of the B.I.C.; Sheriff Milton O. Bailey and District Attorney Harold B. Platner of Greene county.

According to the authorities Mr. and Mrs. Hilloicoss had left the house, a bungalow, to visit neighbors, leaving the children asleep at home.

Mr. Hilloicoss happened to glance out of the neighbor's window and saw fire bursting out of the windows and doors of the bungalow. He ran hurriedly home and made a futile attempt to enter the burning house and rescue his children, but was driven back by the dense smoke and flames.

[illegible], a neighbor, was overcome by smoke as he attempted to rescue the children.

The fire is believed to have been caused by an overheated smokepipe on the wood burning stove in the kitchen. Authorities say that a week ago fire broke out in the bungalow from the same source, but was extinguished with a pail of water.

Three Men Burned

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Three employes of the Consolidated Edison Company were burned about the face and hands when a condensation of gas exploded from a short circuit in a manhole in which they were working outside 121 West 39th street at 8:30 a. m. today, police reported. They were taken to Roosevelt Hospital where their conditions were described as not serious. The police identified the injured men as Arthur McNamee, 29, of 859 42nd street, Brooklyn; Michael Rogan, 48, of 1355 Nelson avenue, the Bronx, and George Howdan, 40, 28 Clinton avenue, Irvington, N. Y.

Surplus Brings Soap

East Weymouth, Mass., Oct. 24 (AP)—Samuel Schofield ordered some World War 2 army surplus commodities—and reports he received 61 bars of soap made for use in the Civil War. On the label of each piece was the slogan, "Save Soap to Win the War," and the stamped signature, "Commander-in-Chief, Abraham Lincoln."

Krug Gets Burden Of Coal Strike as Truman Is Silent

President Refuses Any Statement on Wage Controls; Krug Doubts Strike

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—President Truman left the threat of another nation-wide soft coal strike squarely up to Secretary of Interior Krug today.

Mr. Truman declined to discuss John L. Lewis' ultimatum for a reopening of the United Mine Workers' contract at his news conference.

The President likewise declined to comment on questions as to his plans on continued wage controls, telling reporters to read his speech of October 14 lifting price ceilings from meat.

Meanwhile, Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug expressed doubt that the miners will quit their jobs on November 1—as John L. Lewis has intimated—unless a conference on new wage demands begins in Washington on that date.

In emphatic terms, Lewis has set a November 1 deadline for reopening negotiations, declaring that otherwise the government's contract with his United Mine Workers Union will be "void." By tradition, that would mean a strike, since the miners follow a "no contract, no work" policy.

"I don't see how I can be there November 1," Krug told newsmen last night in Boulder City, Nev.

"But I don't think they will walk out. After all, the time and place of the meeting have been set."

Krug did not specify either the time or place "set"—one of the major points in dispute—and pre-

Justice Bookstein Views Court as Protector of Rights, Dignity, Liberty of Individual

Rally Speaker Relates Kingston's Part in Judicial History of Nation

"I subscribe wholeheartedly to one basic concept, and that is democracy, American style, in which the judiciary is one of the three branches of government, existing solely to preserve the rights and liberties as well as the dignity of the individual," declared Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein at the big Republican rally in the municipal auditorium last night.

Justice Bookstein, who was appointed to the supreme court by Governor Dewey on April 10, is a candidate on the Republican ticket this fall to succeed himself.

"It is always a pleasure," he said "to come to this fine old city. There is something inspiring about walking through its streets. One can hardly look back upon American history without giving the city of Kingston a large portion of his thought.

"There is the overtone of Revolutionary Days, and there is the recollection of the fact that Kingston was the first capitol city of the State of New York. Indeed, this community is blessed with truly great traditions. Perhaps one might say that many of the ideas of constitutional government flow largely from the very traditions which permeate this community. For that reason it is particularly appropriate that I, as a judicial candidate, draw from this great city inspiration from the background which it so abundantly supplies.

"This city has contributed much to the judicial history of our great state. In the days of my early youth, Alton Brooks Parker was chief judge of the Court of Appeals.

Praise for Loughran

"A little over a year ago another of your distinguished fellow-townsmen has reached the great zenith of success by being appointed by our great governor to be chief judge of the Court of Appeals. Chief Judge John T. Loughran has demonstrated the qualities of heart and mind which led Governor Dewey to appoint him to the chief judgeship, despite the fact that they are of different political faiths.

"It is, therefore, with a considerable degree of respect and humility that I come before you this evening as a candidate to succeed myself for a full term of fourteen years, as a justice of the Supreme Court in this, the Third Judicial District.

"As you probably know, custom has decreed that a judicial officer may not make a political speech. A judicial candidate, may, how-

Americans to Help Sugar Situation, if They Send Protests

Sugar Brokerage Company Suggests U.S. Citizens Send Opinions to Washington

Americans who, for the most part, have suffered almost five years of short rations in sugar, are told that they may have a sugar shortage for five more years, in a pamphlet issued by Lamborn and Co., Inc., of New York.

Responsibility for the existing condition is placed squarely upon the Government "which has completely controlled every phase of the sugar business since Pearl Harbor — production, processing, distribution and rationing."

Lamborn and Co. are one of the oldest and largest sugar brokerage concerns in the United States.

The only help for the situation is seen to be in the people taking action—to "take off the horse collar," and stop "acting like slaves." Americans are advised to "speak their mind and express their will to their elected Washington representatives, including the President," and demand that "steps be taken now to put an end to this shameful sugar shortage in 1947."

73 Pounds per Person

Heavy shipments of sugar to foreign nations this year will result, it is stated, in Americans receiving only 73 pounds of refined sugar per person, compared with a pre-war consumption of 98 pounds.

The Tolley plan, described as a plan "to raise the normal consumption of sugar in other countries at the expense, and through the sacrifice, of the people of the

Women May Form Their Legion Post

County Organization Has Idea Presented at Wallkill Session

Formation of a women's American Legion post in Ulster and the organization of an Ulster county Legion basketball league were the principal topics of discussion at the regular meeting of the county Legion organization at Wallkill this week.

County Commander Thomas Bohan presided with about 75 Legionnaires present and ten posts represented.

The possibility of an all-female Legion post in the county evoked considerable discussion for and against the proposal. Among those who expressed an opinion were Harry Kirchner, George Nichols, Gordon Irvine, Peter Williams, Lewis Van De Mark and P. Joseph Beichert. Action on the proposal was deferred pending an expression of opinion by all women who served in either war as member of the various women's branches of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard and Marines.

Athletic Officer Nicholas Marone of Highland reported the formation of the county American Legion Basketball League. To date the following posts have secured a franchise: Highland, Marlborough, New Paltz, Wallkill, Kingston and Saugerties. A motion was presented and adopted to set aside $75 for the purchase of team and individual trophies for the league.

Considerable discussion arose regarding the adverse publicity that has appeared recently in the press as the result of alleged Communist-inspired and sponsored veterans organizations aimed at ridicule of the veteran and older established veterans organizations. It was emphasized that the Legion does not support or encourage the line of thought which prompted the recent march on the state capitol by so-called veterans protesting against insufficient housing. Department Commander Earl Hitchcock has already notified the Governor as to the Legion's position on the matter.

Speaks of Legion College

Harry Kirchner, commander of the Third District, spoke on the American Legion college at Indianapolis. He outlined the objectives of the college and the requirements for attendance. He also asked for the names of any prospective candidate for this college and any Legionnaire or Post interested in naming a candidate is asked to contact Commander Kirchner at once as the candidate must be approved by Nov. 1. Commander Kirchner also

Officials Predict Congress May Kill O.P.A. in January

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—Congress may kill O.P.A. in January, some high administration officials predicted today.

But they added that by then only a slim list of very scarce, badly needed items in addition to rent will remain under ceilings.

As if to emphasize this forecast, O.P.A. snatched its price tags from cosmetics and a long list of non-food products today in a quick followup to last midnight's sweeping food and beverage decontrol.

Together the two actions swept overboard another big segment of wage control because the government applies its pay curbs only when higher price ceilings are involved.

Statisticians said that in the case of food and restaurant industries alone, some 1,500,000 workers were cut loose from wage control.

On the food list, only sugar, syrups and rice remain under O.P.A.

Frankly acknowledging that there is widespread belief in the government that Congress will come back primed to knock out O.P.A. quickly and finally, one ranking official said privately the policy between now and year's end will be get rid of ceilings rapidly put in orderly sequence.

This official said the view is that it would be to President Truman's political advantage to trim the controlled list to the bone, then let Congress take the responsibility if it wants to go the rest of the way.

Housewives and their husbands meanwhile watched retail costs at groceries, restaurants and liquor stores, as O.P.A. officials predicted the cost of living and drinking would certainly go up, at least temporarily, as a result of the bread to beer retreat from ceilings.

One O.P.A. food authority said

Brewster Charges Senate Suppresses Housing Report

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 24 (AP)—U. S. Senator Owen Brewster charges that the Senate War Investigating Committee, headed until recently by U. S. Senator James M. Mead, Democratic candidate for governor of New York, has "suppressed" a housing report because it indicts "confusion and delays" in the Washington administration.

The Maine Republican made his assertion last night at a meeting of the Federated Women's Republican Clubs of Albany at about the time Mead was addressing a Democratic party rally in the same city.

Mead, who resigned chairmanship of the committee to campaign for the governorship, declined to comment on Brewster's statement.

Declaring that "to suggest that any agency below the federal level was responsible for the housing problem was "to insult the intelligence of the American people," Brewster said:

"The Truman - Mead - Kilgore committee of the senate has suppressed for the past year a report on housing because of its indictment of the confusion and delays in the administration in Washington.

"* * * a month before election a senate committee starts somewhat reluctantly a further investigation of housing although there already exists in its own files unpublished, ample evidence of the inconceivable incompetence of those in authority in Washington."

President Truman was chairman of the committee when a senator. Senator Kilgore (D-W. Va.) now heads the group. Brewster is a member of the committee.

In campaign speeches Mead had dwelt at length on the housing problem in New York state, accusing the Republican Governor Dewey administration of refusing

GENERAL VIEW AS TRUMAN ADDRESSES U. N. ASSEMBLY

This is a general view of the opening session of the United Nations General Assembly at Flushing Meadow Park, New York, as President Truman addresses the delegates. They cheered when the president said that freedom from fear of war "is attainable now" and again when he said that "the United States of America has no wish to make war, now or in the future, upon any people anywhere in the world."

Coaxial cable has been used successfully for transmitting wide-band high frequency color television images between New York and Washington.

strength" would continue to work for a "just and lasting peace" and urged that the United Nations get on with the tasks of controlling atomic energy, suppressing mass destruction weapons and otherwise creating the conditions of peace.

The veto issue appeared certain to kick up a prolonged argument in the assembly's general debate, beginning today after U.N. Secretary General Trygve Lie reports to the 51-nation body on the progress of the peace organization to date. Two full-dress sessions were scheduled—at 11 a. m. and 4 p. m. E.S.T.

Cuba, Australia and the Philippines all have come out for ending the voting system by which any one of the big-five powers—America, Russia, France, Britain and China—can block action in the Security Council.

Without referring specifically to their proposals, Mr. Truman upheld in his assembly address "the rule of unanimous accord" among the big five, but said that it imposes on them a "special obligation" to agree on major issues rather than to block agreement.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.), a member of the American delegation, told newsmen the United States would continue to favor a "discriminate use" of the veto power but would oppose its use in inconsequential matters. Russia is known to oppose any change in the voting system also and has indicated a desire that it be broadened where possible, rather than curtailed.

In his speech which urged the international assembly to get on with the business of organizing peace as rapidly as possible, Mr. Truman urged that the delegates reject "talk of war" but warned that "to permit the United Nations to be broken into irreconcilable parts by different political philosophies would bring disaster to the world." He did not specifically mention the exisitng tensions between the United States and Russia.

Some American diplomatic authorities said the chief immediate effect of his address, which made clear that he supports the foreign policy operations of Secretary of State Byrnes, should be to remove any doubts left in the minds of foreign diplomats as a result of the criticisms of Byrnes' policies voiced by Former Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace.

The comments of foreign delegates ranged from "very interesting" to Russian Foreign Minister Molotov's statement to Mr. Truman himself that it was "great speech." Molotov met the President as he left the U. N. assembly building, on the former New York World Fair Grounds.

He shook hands warmly with Mr. Truman and members of his party. The two had not met since Molotov passed through Washington in the Spring of 1945 on his way to San Francisco U. N. Conference, shortly after Mr. Truman went into the White House. An interpreter told the President:

"Mr. Molotov wants to congratulate you heartily on that speech. He thought it was a great speech."

"I thank you most heartily," the President replied.

Receives Delegates

From the assembly meeting the President went to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel where for two hours he received delegates. Then he took a special train back to Washington.

American officials said that his address, while detailing the needs for early United Nations action on many issues, had laid down no new points of American foreign policy—and had omitted one piece of information in which there is much interest here: What is the United States going to do about placing under U. N. trusteeship the Pacific Islands captured from Japan?

However, it did reaffirm the American intention to take a leading part in the quest for peace.

In summing up the problems before the present assembly meeting, the President declared that "the difficulty is that it is easier to get people to agree upon peace as an ideal than to agree upon principles of law and justice or to agree to subject their own acts to the collective judgment of mankind."

Various delegates echoed this view. The ideals and principles and machinery were laid down in the charter written at San Francisco 15 months ago. The agency was organized at London last winter. Here in New York it is beginning the long-time job of trying to make organized peace work.

U.N. SIDELIGHTS

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Food may speak a universal language. But delegates to the U.N. General Assembly don't.

Jack Lasher, headwaiter in the delegates' dining room has assembled a staff of waiters who can say bean soup or caviar in about 24 languages. Each waiter knows at least three languages.

Security officials at the assembly site are so thorough that even the meadow sod undergoes inspection for possible explosives.

There was rapt attention during President Truman's address—except once.

A marine decided to move a magazine rack with coffee tray on top. The tray slipped off, banged loudly against a chair. The marine disappeared into a men's room.

SOPHIE THE SCIENTIST

Women are no good in the abstract sciences, psychologists used to tell us. If any experts still adhere to the old doctrine, they might have trouble in explaining the case of Sophie Germain, just written up by Jesse A. Fernandez Martinez, a Cuban scientist, in the Scientific Monthly.

For some unknown reason she has been almost forgotten. Yet in 1816 she won a mathematical contest originally suggested by Napoleon, to express musical vibrations mathematically, which none of the great mathematicians of the day had been able to solve. Later she devised an equation, known ever since as "Germain's equation." To have a mathematical formula bear a scientist's name is about the highest honor known in this dry and complicated field. Still later she turned to philosophy, and advanced theories which inspired the famous French philosopher, Auguste Comte. She died in 1831, aged only 55.

These achievements were especially remarkable because of her sex. Her family so disapproved of her early studies that they cut off all heat from her room to keep her from studying. Yet though the ink froze in the stand, she continued to work, oblivious of her surroundings.

Nowadays Sophie Germain would not have had to face the disapproval of family and friends, directed against any woman who ventured out of manual household fields into science, the humanities or the arts.

WHY HANGING?

The Nazi leaders were hanged and not shot because hanging is a disgraceful death, not only by our standards but by those of the Nazi themselves. Field Marshal Von Witzleben, who blitzed the Netherlands in 1940, was hanged when caught plotting against Hitler. His career of victory availed him nothing.

When Keitel, Ribbentrop and the rest were hanged, they reaped what they had sown.

SALVATION

"The Christian way is the way out of the present world crisis," said a distinguished American jurist addressing an assembly of the United Nations. "Our choice no longer lies between war and peace, but between one world and no world." To intelligent and thoughtful observers this is a plain fact.

New and more terrible instrumentalities will soon be so common that almost the whole world can be plunged into warfare by irresponsible and reckless nations, in a few days or hours. Our scientific developments have outstripped our moral growth. Science must be turned to peaceful rather than to destructive purposes. We must labor to bring about an international rule of law and justice, and that is what the United Nations, however awkwardly and hesitantly, are endeavoring to establish.

If this movement fails, what is there to save our whole modern system from destruction? Common sense should save us, but the common craving of humanity and brotherhood may be more potent than mere logic.

INSULTING THE CUSTOMER

A midwestern city restaurant a few years ago made a good living by insulting its customers. The head waiter might make unflattering comments on a diner's necktie, or the waiter might grab the fork from his hand, crying, "Don't you know any better than to eat that way? Where do you think you are? At home?" The customers loved it and came back for more.

Now this restaurant has given up the practice. Perhaps it had trouble with new waiters who crossed the line that separates bearable badinage from infuriating insult. Or could it be that restaurants where the diner gets bad service and abuse from the waiter are no longer a novelty?

ROUND EARTH

The text book shortage has its brighter side. One sphere can be used by an entire roomful of students in lieu of geography books that are hard to get. This substitution for flat maps teaches vividly that the earth is a global unit.

It is time now to translate the oft-repeated phrase "global warfare" into "global peace." Globes in the classroom may help to do it.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

A FEW PERSONAL REMARKS

I saw in a weekly news magazine that I spearheaded the American Writers Association, which I should have liked to do, but I was beaten to it by more energetic advocates of American freedom. As soon as they heard of the Cain plan to control the dissemination of ideas by the written word, they jumped fast. They organized the American Writers Association to prevent an Author's Authority from being set up which would give a single Petrillo-like person a monopoly over the manuscripts of every writer of books, magazine articles, movie and radio scripts in the country.

Now in spite of this news weekly, I did not spearhead the opposition, which shows what bad reporting these weeklies can tolerate. Like a great many other writers, I was asked by the energetic opponents to this unconstitutional procedure, whether I, too, was opposed to it. I said, yes; joined up, and asked whether they wanted a subscription, and wrote an article about it.

So, now the bad boys are going around saying to so-called liberals:

"You don't want to join up with a horrible reactionary like George Sokolsky, the 'pro-Fascist,' the 'Roosevelt-hater,' the 'red-baiter,'" and the usual line of guff which the smear artists pull on everybody who likes America and the American way of life. They are saying the same thing about Rupert Hughes.

And one guy said that he can prove that I am on friendly terms with Gerald L. K. Smith and Merwin K. Hart, and that therefore I loved Hitler and am on intimate terms with Franco. So they mix up every situation and pull out the tar-brush and call it an argument. They try to kill by association, by which logic every American should vote against every candidate who has a P.A.C. endorsement, because Stalin okayed the P.A.C.

Of course, I have also heard these same people object to the opposition to the Petrillo-like Author's Authority on the ground that Norman Thomas, Dorothy Thompson, Isaac Don Levine and Eugene Lyons are opposed to it and that that proves that those who believe in freedom to think and to express thought communed with Trotzky's ghost before they stood by the American Constitution. Again, all that these authoritarians have to offer is a smear rather than an argument. It is the tactics that both Hitler and Stalin used so admirably. Besides, Norman Thomas, Dorothy Thompson, et al, have established by their lives and work the bona fides of their liberalism.

During the past 10 years, many Americans have retreated into their shells rather than to take the smearings of these alien-minded wreckers of American civilization. Men were so shocked and revolted by their nastiness that they threw their hands up in disgust. That time is over.

We have too much that is of real human value to safeguard and preserve in the United States to let these imitators of a European totalitarianism conquer America by default. Their day is over in the United States and although their organizations still have bloated treasuries to use for vicious propaganda, public opinion recognizes that they have misled Americans and abused American credulity too long.

A test of a man's credibility is what he has said and written during the past 10 years. And the test of an organization's worth is what it has done during the past 10 years. Those who were or are associated with the Communists, American or Russian, during that 10-year period, have exposed themselves to suspicion of unworthy motives or mistaken conceptions. Not their ability to smear and abuse Americans nor to denounce them by associating them with unpopular figures matters. It is precisely what these men and organizations have done to lead Americans to Teheran, Yalta and Moscow, to the abuses of the O.P.A., to an acceptance of totalitarian controls in government.

Huey Long is reported to have said once that if Fascism came to the United States, it would be called democracy. Huey Long was right. Whenever one of these "democracy-shouters" smears an American fighting for American principles, check up on the fellow's conduct! See if during the past 10 years he has been an exponent of Russia First.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

NOSE AND THROAT INFECTIONS

Osler, our greatest modern physician, stated that most of the ills of man came by way of his mouth, nose and throat, and if the organisms causing them could be prevented from entering the lungs or stomach much sickness would be avoided. Because the blood circulates over entire body and drugs taken by mouth or injected under the skin or into a vein finally enter the blood and do their work these three methods of giving drugs are in common use. That some drugs are most helpful if held in the mouth, under the tongue or against the back of the mouth (the throat) is not commonly known.

In the Journal of Occupational Medicine Captains R. O. Levit and W. W. Leathen state that infections of the nose, throat and tonsils have been the cause of large numbers of service men remaining off duty. Even the use of the sulfa drugs given by mouth, hypodermic injection, or injection into a vein has not been of much help. Even penicillin injected under the skin or into a vein has failed to shorten the course of the infection to any extent.

These physicians state, however, that the use of penicillin in the form of a lozenge held in the mouth for a relatively long time is effective in shortening the course of the infection. The lozenge used was made of acacia and penicillin in the required dosage, and included powdered sugar and peppermint to flavor it. As lozenges of 100 units penicillin strength were not effective, dosage was raised to 500 units in each lozenge. Of 117 patients treated for acute inflammation of nose, throat, or tonsils, 110 showed rapid improvement, 99 being cured within 24 hours. Of the 7 patients who were not helped by the penicillin lozenge 5 had tonsillitis with swollen glands in the neck before the lozenge was first given. It would seem that where infection is deeply seated in the tonsils the penicillin lozenge does not reach it.

Patients with inflammation of the gums caused by the two known organisms, were completely healed in 72 hours.

The big point is that 3 of every 4 patients treated with the penicillin lozenge did not have to enter hospital.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

One of the best known hotels downtown in the Gay Nineties and the early 1900's was that of Amasa J. Ormerod on the Strand. The hotel was destroyed by fire on February 18, 1904.

The fire also damaged the stores of Guilford Hasbrouck, Alonzo Terpening and Philip Schuster.

Above the stores of Messrs. Hasbrouck and Terpening were the rooms of the Rondout Club, and the club furnishings were ruined.

The same day the Terwilliger House, at Ellenville, one of the oldest hotels in Ulster county, was destroyed by fire as well as several business houses adjoining the hotel.

The Ormerod hotel was known for its fine foods, and was patronized by many of the downtown business men, who were also members of the Rondout Club.

Uptown the Kingston Club extended the facilities of its club rooms to the members of the Rondout Club until they could have their rooms refurnished and repaired.

The Kingston Drug Club's fourth annual banquet was held on March 9, 1904, in the old Eagle Hotel on Main street, and was attended by some 40 druggists and their employes.

W. F. Dedrick, president of the club, presided as toasmaster, and brief talks were given by Charles C. Ten Broeck, the retiring president of the club, Charles L. McBride, Rabbi Joseph Leiser of Temple Emanuel, John E. Willoughby, editor of The Freeman, and the Rev. Dr. Philip M. Watters, pastor of St. James Methodist Church.

William T. Van Buren, for many years a widely known retail meat dealer of the city, died on March 23, 1904, in his home at the corner of Maiden Lane and Wall street. For years he had been engaged in the meat business, which he carried on after his father's death. The business had been established by his father, Henry Van Buren, in 1833.

Mr. Van Buren for years was active in Masonic affairs as a member of Kingston Lodge, No. 10. He was also a member of Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

Interested in firemanic matters for years he had been active as a member of Wiltwyck Hose Co. Mr. Van Burean was a member of St. John's Church.

The Monday Club presented the play "Cranford" in Association Hall on Pine Grove avenue on February 8, 1904. The play proved a great success.

Among those in the cast were Mrs. Howard Chipp, Mary E. Noone, Elva C. Munn, Janet Mulvaine, Mrs. Ogden Winne, Mrs. Myron J. Michael, Mrs. J. L. Preston, Isabel Searing, Bessie Winne, Mrs. A. V. V. Konyon, Rebecca Martin, Donald Martin and Margaret Black.

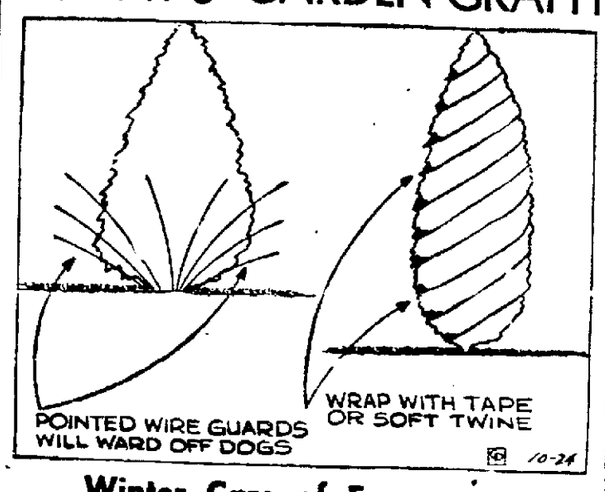

The Kingston City Library on Broadway was formally opened to the public on Monday evening, February 22, 1904.

Muller's orchestra furnished the music for the evening, and the floral decorations were by V. Burgevin's Sons. The address of the evening was delivered by the Rev. Dr. J. G. Van Slyke, of the First Dutch Reformed Church, who was president of the library board of trustees.

School Soap Gets a Workout

Denver, (AP) — When Denver school children returned to classes they were urged by teachers to wash their hands well and often to help prevent their schools from poliomyelitis. The admonitions reacted so enthusiastically that soap and paper towel consumption more than doubled the normal rate. Both these items are in short supply but authorities are scrambling to keep up and aren't going to do anything to check the urge for cleanliness.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Winter Care of Evergreens

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

ALL EVERGREENS should be carefully protected during their first winter in a new location. Evergreens are never dormant and throughout the winter give off moisture, therefore, they must be well supplied with water before the ground freezes.

As soon as the ground has frozen, mulch evergreens with a strawy manure to help conserve their underground supply of moisture. Extend the mulch well beyond the spread of the branches.

Evergreens planted in exposed positions will require a windbreak on the exposed side to protect them against winter burning by wind and sun. Burlap, canvas or heavy cheesecloth stretched on stakes will make a good windbreak.

Tall growing evergreens, pyramidal or columnar in form, should have protection to prevent wind, heavy snow or ice from breaking their branches and thus marring their perfection of line. Such trees should be wrapped with tape or twine, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

Pet control is just as important in wintertime as it is during summer. The lower limbs of evergreens are frequently ruined by dogs. Small trees actually die from this damage. Cats sometimes ruin the bark of trees by sharpening their claws against the tree trunks.

For protection of choice evergreens, pointed wire guards may be used to ward off dogs, as illustrated. Wire wicket garden fence, 18 inches high, will also afford protection, and if painted green it will not be conspicuous.

Defense of United States Will Be Weakened by Cuts in Army, Navy and Air Forces

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 24—Serious cuts in the army, navy and air forces are coming which will materially weaken the defense of the United States in a troubled world.

At the same time that President Truman has ordered drastic cuts in the budgets of the armed services, he has allowed the "pork barrel" budget for rivers and harbors expenditures to be increased.

The order to cut has come from the Budget Bureau. The War Department has been requested to cut about $1,300,000,000 and the navy about $650,000,000. This is in addition to cuts already made of about the same amount heretofore.

These new reductions were not authorized by Congress. It begins to look as if Congress is by-passed altogether and that, no matter what moneys Congress may specify as permissible, the Budget Bureau, acting through the White House, can require them not to be spent.

The cuts ordered are on the current budget in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1947, and are being made after Congress had determined what it wanted to spend for national defense.

If a president may, during a recess of Congress, use his power over the army and navy to reduce their respective budgets, it means that the people's legislature will have no means hereafter of controlling the nature or quality of the defense facilities available to the American people.

The many thousands of pages of testimony taken in connection with the Pearl Harbor attack merely tell the story of what our armed services failed to do with the facilities and equipment they had, but it is also well known that, even if they had been properly alerted, the result might not have been very different. For the Budget Bureau was the institution that regulated expenditures for national defense before 1941, and there is instance after instance in the record to show that, although the Budget Bureau cut down the requests of the armed services, Congress managed to restore a portion of those requests. This means that the defense of the United States is not handled by men who know something about defense but by civilian bureaucrats who apparently don't know whether the armed services will remain effective "instruments of foreign policy."

The basic principle involved in the cutting of the defense budget is of transcendent importance. If the budget bureau, through its presidential influence, forces the army and navy officers to cut defense strength below what they believe is necessary for our safety in this atomic era, these officers do not dare to tell the public about it. Only by discreet answers to bold questions asked by members of congressional committees can the facts be brought out. The damage to the military establishment about to be inflicted may not be remediable by January when the new Congress convenes.

The defense of Guam was impossible in the last war because the administration had failed to fortify that all-important base. Army and navy officers were told by civilian officials not to ask for funds to fortify Guam because Congress wouldn't grant the requests. But the specific request was never presented for a vote to Congress, and the responsibility for the loss of many American lives in the Pacific cannot be placed on the army and navy officers who asked in vain for better defenses in the Pacific but were prevented from making their views public as to our defense needs.

The War and Navy Departments are engaged in trying to make the new cuts requested by the Budget Bureau, but theirs is a discouraging task when they see political "pork barrel" expenditures deliberately increased, especially just before elections.

The army and navy cuts however may backfire politically. It is said that most of the civilian shipyards will be closed down soon if the cuts go through. The news about this prospective dismissal of numerous shipyard workers is being kept secret till after election—in fact, the orders to cut have been hushed up for a long time and only leaked out this week. Even so, the details of how the cuts are to be made and the effect on the total personnel—officers and civilian employes—in shore establishments and air fields and army camps have not yet been revealed and probably will not be known till after the November 5th elections.

Lawyers Throughout District Commend Justice Bookstein

His Appearances In Ulster County Show Him to Be Well Qualified

Isadore Bookstein, Republican candidate for Supreme Court Justice, Third Judicial District, is an able, experienced judge who has served the district since his appointment last April with great distinction. Lawyers throughout the district commend his service and his appearances here in Ulster county have shown him to be well qualified for the position which he seeks now for the full term.

Perhaps no appointment in recent years has caused such genuine satisfaction as that of Judge Bookstein last April when he was appointed to fill a vacancy on the bench. Lawyers and laymen both declare him to be a credit to the bench and his fairness, industry and good sound judgment has been frequently commented upon. Justice Bookstein has an acute mind and is gifted with that rarest of gifts, common sense, which he never fails to use in conjunction with the law when determining a matter. It has been said that Justice Bookstein is a humane and able judge and that his real liking for people, his open-mindedness to human problems, his awareness of human rights, and his interest in public affairs have multiplied his personal friendships by the thousands.

Justice Bookstein's background is one of accomplishments. Born in Albany on February 12, 1891 he was graduated from public school in 1904 and four years later was graduated from Albany High School. In 1912 when he graduated from Albany Law School he was valedictorian of his class. In 1913 he entered partnership with former Judge Daniel J. Dugan and served as district attorney of Albany county in 1921.

During 1921 and 1922 he served as Albany county judge and has also been Republican county chairman of Albany county.

For 23 years Justice Bookstein has been a lecturer at Albany Law School and has been a practicing attorney, including practice before the United States Supreme Court since 1926. He is a member of the American Bar Association; New York State Bar Association and the Albany County Bar Association.

He served the Albany Council New York State Commission Against Discrimination; is a past exalted ruler of Albany Lodge of Elks; a past master of Washington Lodge, No. 85, F. & A. M.; past chancellor commander of Albany City Lodge, No. 540, Knights of Pythias; past president of Gideon Lodge, No. 140, I.O.B.B. and is former trustee of Old Philologians and a former director of the Albany Chamber of Commerce.

Judge Bookstein was married to Edith Friedman of Troy, November 23, 1913 and they have three children, a daughter, Mrs. Robert E. Dubb, and two sons recently discharged from the service, Stanley R., and Edward L. Bookstein.

For 34 years Justice Bookstein has been accumulating experience and wisdom in his profession. His character, ability, training and experience have all aided in making him especially competent for the position which he now seeks and the election of Justice Isadore Bookstein to the Supreme Court bench for a full term will bring to the residents of the seven counties in the district a man who will uphold the high tradition of the Supreme Court bench.

ACCORD

Accord, Oct. 24—The indoor carnival sponsored by the fire company for the benefit of the Veteran's Memorial Hospital, Ellenville was a gratifying success. Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By FRANK BRUTTO
(For Hal Boyle)

Rome (AP)—Stalwart blackshirts who once lifted daggers in salute to their Duce would have writhed at a final, ironic dirge for Fascism—school children singing "America the Beautiful" in the very halls where the former dictator once stomped and shouted the glories of war.

The song came from a wing of the vast and rich marble halls of the Foro Mussolini (now the Foro Italia) where the former Duce's staunchest neophytes once gathered for indoctrination, and where, figuratively at least, school bells now summon three-score English-speaking children assembled from many parts of the world to the overseas school of Rome.

The school's color—on the outside—is red, but otherwise it is as different as could be from the little red schoolhouse that dot the American countryside. Unrepressed by the gleaming, dead-faced, heavy-muscled statues to totalitarian heroics, the laughter of American and British children—a breeze of democracy—sweeps through the halls.

In a cheerful kindergarten a score of children, daubed with paints, squash clay and fit dominoes. A tow-haired, blue-eyed American tot gleefully rolls clay snakes with a kilted lad from Scotland. More serious business is underway in the higher grades for, although it was put together in a few hurried weeks, there is little in the school that is haphazard.

The idea for it came when five mothers, most of them U.N.R.R.A. wives, began to wonder where they could send their children, recently arrived from the United States and England, to school. They were headed by Mrs. Sylvia Horwitz, one of the founders of the Downtown Community School of New York city.

Their frantic work, soon aided by a dozen other parents still might have foundered had it not been for the U. S. Army which suddenly realized that arrivals of officers' and enlisted mens' families had placed a similar problem in its uniformed lap.

Col. Charles L. Dasher, Allied area commander, made available the wing in Mussolini Forum, whose luxurious buildings, swimming pools and tennis courts have been a U. S. Army rest center since the liberation of Rome.

The school's faculty is impressive. Its director is little, bird-like Miss Anna Thomas, founder and for 14 years director of the Fellowship School at Gland, Switzerland.

There is Miss Edith Lillian Watson, of the London Royal Academy of Music; Canadian-born Miss Helen R. H. Nichol, who holds a degree in economics and political science from McGill University; Mrs. James Gray, wife of the assistant military attache of the American Embassy, who taught for ten years in San Francisco elementary schools; Dr. Elizabeth Schorr, holder of a doctorate in philogy from the University of Vienna and two degrees in languages from the Paris Sorbonne; Mrs. Richard Hauser, director of the kindergarten, who specialized in childrens' medicine and psychology at the University of Vienna and taught for five years in English schools.

At the first general assembly, Mrs. Gray told the children a story about her nephew with whom she had climbed to the top of a Swiss mountain. There the lad gathered some snails. When they left the crest, she noticed that he was empty-handed and asked, "where are your snails?"

"Oh," he said, "I just brought them together so that they could be friends."

Some of the tiniest children may have missed the point, but the older ones smiled in appreciation. Later when they sang lustily "My Country 'tis of Thee," many a mother was dewy-eyed, and one of them, more to herself than to those around her murmured:

"Who would have thought it?"

Miss Macurdy Dies At Vassar Hospital

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 24 (AP)—Miss Grace Harriet Macurdy, professor emeritus of Greek at Vassar College, died at Vassar Brothers Hospital last night.

A native of Robbinstown, Me., she started her teaching career at Vassar in 1893.

Last July she was awarded a British decoration, the King's Medal for service in the cause of freedom, for her efforts in behalf of British and Greek war relief.

Cordts Will Meet

All members of J. N. Cordts are requested to meet tonight, October 24, at 8 o'clock at the engine house. Please be prompt as important business will be discussed.

OLD SALT

Cap'n Dave Duane, 80-years-old, puffs his pipe and rests a bit from work at Mobile, Ala., on his 26-foot schooner, "Calamity Jane," which he says as soon as she is completed "I'm gonna sail her straight to South America." The white-bearded searfarer who added "I ain't through doin' the things I like," expects the trip to round out an active 54 years at sea. (AP Wirephoto)

A Long Wait!

My grandpa notes the world's worn cogs.
And says we're going to the dogs.
His grand-dad in his house of logs,
Swore things were going to the dogs.
His dad among the Flemish bogs,
Vowed things were going to the dogs.
The caveman in his queer skin togs,
Said things were going to the dogs.
But this is what I wish to state—
The dogs have had a long, long wait.

Mother—So you're not afraid to go to the hospital? That's a good little boy.

Little Boy—But I ain't gonna let 'em palm off a baby on me like they did you—I wanna pup!

Served You Right

It was just the other day,
In a fortune telling place,
A pretty maiden read my mind,
And then she slapped my face.

Frank—How did you get on with that chorus girl you were so keen about?

Harold—Boy, she's just mad about me! Why, she's got a lock of my hair.

Frank—Is that so?

Harold—Sure! I can show you the wound she left when she dug it out!

PEOPLE SAVING FOR A RAINY DAY OFTEN MISTAKE A DRIZZLE FOR A FLOOD.

English Rector—Good morning, Thompson. I hear you have a son and heir.

Thompson—Yes, sir. Our house now represents the United Kingdom.

Rector, How is that?

Thompson—Why, you see, I am English, my wife's Irish, the nurse is Scotch, and the baby wails.

As observed to a visitor yesterday, there still are "twofers," two for a nickel cigars, but now they cost 15 cents apiece.

Bread Kills Odor

Remember that bread absorbs steam and odor. This advice will come in handy when you are cooking sauerkraut or other odorous vegetables. Place the bread on the lid of the cooking utensil.

KRIPPLEBUSH

Kripplebush, Oct. 23—The Halloween party, with parade in costume, will be held Thursday evening, October 31, at the hall—not October 30 as previously stated. There will be prizes for the prettiest and funniest costumes. Refreshments will be served free to the children. The public is invited to come in costume and join in the grand march.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin H. Barley of Ellenville spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Miller.

Simeon Hornbeck, who received his discharge from the army, has returned home.

Children Love Scraps

Washington, Ga., (AP)—Machinist Zeno Young is a scrapmaster with a sense of fun. Out of odds and ends—an oil drum, a length of stove pipe, a few nuts and bolts—he has installed in his back yard such children's delights as a miniature train that hauls passengers around a wooden track, a small ferris wheel and airplane swings.

HIGH FALLS

High Falls, Oct. 23—A U.S.O. drive for funds will be held at the fire house Friday evening, conducted by Town of Marbletown Post, American Legion, Commander Jansen of High Falls and Legionnaire Francis Wager of Stone Ridge are co-chairmen for the drive. The locomotive of Voiture Locale 391 of the "40 and 8" will appear at High Falls for the first time, weather permitting. Walter J. Miller, chef de gare, will be one of the speakers. Local talent which has been asked to participate includes J. Ellis Briggs, president of the High Falls Fire Co. Mrs. Hubert Smith has consented to take care of the vocal entertainment. The locomotive is a replica of the locomotives used in France during the first World War and is equipped with a public address system. It has created quite a sensation wherever it appeared. Marbletown Legionnaires can meet the locomotive at Elmendorf's gas station in Stone Ridge and have a ride. It can accommodate 20 people.

Veterans Seen Weakening On Women Members

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars still bars women veterans—but there are signs of a weakening.

Louis E. Starr, V.F.W. commander-in-chief, told reporters yesterday that women veterans of the Spanish-American War—yes, there were some—were the first to agitate for membership in the V.F.W.

They were unsuccessful.

"Then the women veterans of World War I tried to get in," said Starr.

"We kept 'em out."

"Now the women who served in World War II want in. During the war we said no. After all, the men were overseas. We stay-at-homes were not in a position to speak for them.

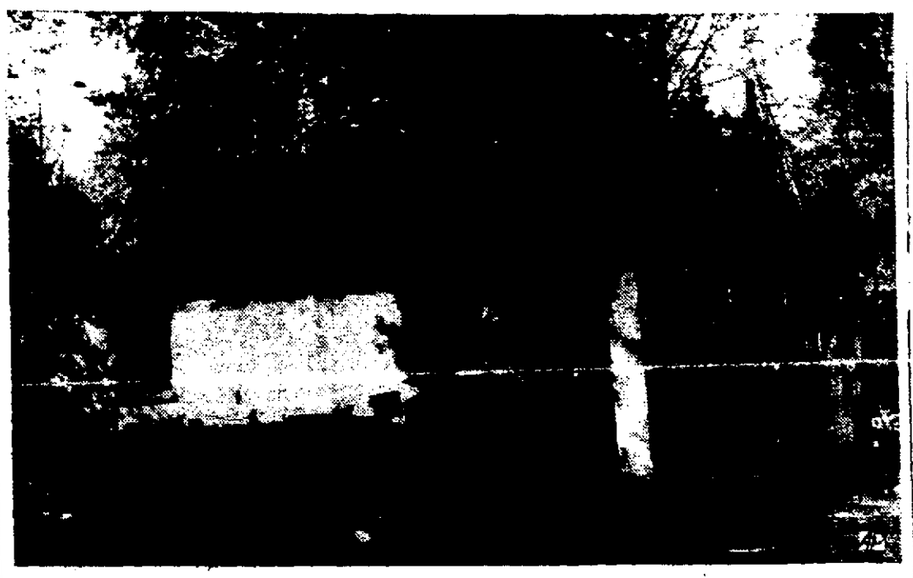

"Now the World War II men are back. They constitute 82.7 percent of our membership and an even higher percentage of our officers.

"If these men want to admit women as members—and apparently many of them do—who are we to tell them it can't be done?"

The U. S. Navy will replace 2,500 privately-owned binoculars lost or damaged during the war with surplus standard Navy binoculars.

Digitalis, the dried leaf of the purple foxglove, is a cardiac stimulant.

HOME WHERE TEN PERISHED IN FIRE

This is all that remained of a one-family house at Lake Pocotopaug, near East Hampton, Conn., in which ten persons perished from fast spreading flames that followed an oil burner explosion. The victims were Mrs. Edward Nelson, her eight children, and her six-weeks-old granddaughter. Medical Examiner Norman H. Gardiner said they died from "asphyxiation by fire." Edward Clark, Mrs. Nelson's 19-year-old son was the only survivor.

Storm Warning

COLD WEATHER COMING! Don't put up with hard shifting this winter! Let your Shell Dealer drain, flush and refill your Transmission and Differential gear boxes with the correct grade of Shell Extreme Pressure lubricants today.

Get your car's "Safety Factors" ready for winter!

BRAKES that stop on a dime, easy positive steering—these are just a couple of the hidden "Safety Factors" engineered into your car! But hidden or not, they've got to work properly for safe winter driving.

That's why your Shell Dealer inspects every one of them when he gives your car a Shellubrication job. He checks your steering assembly, wheel bearings, brake system, radiator, lights, battery and windshield wipers. What's more, he lists all items requiring attention.

He also performs two other vital services for you:—

1. He drains, flushes, then refills your crankcase with the correct grade of Shell X-100 Motor Oil for wintertime driving.
2. He drains, flushes, then refills your radiator with a Shell anti-freeze solution.

Finally, he gives you a record of service and a written guarantee covering both materials and workmanship.

Play safe! Don't get caught unprepared by a sudden cold snap! See your Shell Dealer today and make a date for a Shellubrication job for your car, before the rush starts!

DELICIOUS GINGERBREAD
NEW, QUICK, EASY!

Made in a saucepan—easier mixing, less dishwashing!

½ cup shortening • 2½ cups sifted flour
1½ tsps baking soda • ½ tsp salt
1½ tsps ginger • 1 tsp cinnamon
1¼ cups Brer Rabbit Molasses
1 egg, unbeaten • ¾ cup hot water

ALL MIXING DONE IN ONE SAUCEPAN! Much simpler, much easier—and fewer dishes to get out, wash, put away.

A HANDLE TO GRASP AS YOU BEAT! No wobbling or slipping out of your hands as with a bowl. You don't get your thumb in the batter!

NO CREAMING of shortening. Melt it in 3-quart or 4-quart saucepan over very low heat. Remove from heat, let cool. Mix and sift dry ...

NO BEATING of eggs. Add molasses and unbeaten egg to cooled shortening, blend well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with hot water, mixing well each time. Bake in well greased 9 x 9 x 2 pan in moderate oven (350° F.) 40 to 45 minutes or until done. 16 portions.

BEST GINGERBREAD you ever tasted! We get that Brer Rabbit Molasses flavor from a kind of sugar cane that grows as nowhere else on the plantations down around New Orleans.

TWO TYPES to suit taste preferences:

Gold Label Brer Rabbit—highest quality light molasses for table use.

Green Label Brer Rabbit—full-flavored dark molasses especially recommended for cooking.

THREE GRAND MEALS EVERYDAY
FROM GRAND UNION HOMEMAKER'S SERVICE

IT'S MEAT, MEAT, MEAT!

Meat is back again! Let's dig in; eat more delicious meat. This is just the time of the year for a tender, juicy pot roast of beef with lots of good, rich-brown gravy. Pot roast is a favorite meat dish, delicious to eat and economical, too.

Beef Pot Roast with Vegetables

4-4½ lbs beef blade or round bone chuck roast; 2 tblsps lard or drippings; Salt 1 tsp to each lb of meat; ½ tsp pepper; Carrots; Potatoes; Onions; ¼ cup water

Heat pot roast kettle over moderate heat 5 to 10 minutes. Add fat and when hot place meat in kettle, browning thoroughly and slowly on all sides for at least 30 minutes. Do not hurry browning. When browned add seasonings and water. Cover tightly and cook over lowest heat 3½ to 4 hours. One hour before meat is tender add whole carrots, onions and potatoes. Finish cooking. Make gravy from drippings in kettle.

South American Pot Roast

4-4½ lbs blade or round bone chuck roast, heel of round rolled rump or rolled ribs from lower grade beef; ¼ cup lard; 1 tblsp dry mustard; 1½ tblsps brown sugar; 1 tblsp salt; ¼ tsp pepper; ¼ cup vinegar; 1 cup sliced onions

Slowly brown beef on all sides in pre-heated kettle and hot lard. Add seasonings, vinegar, onions and ¼ cup water. Cover and simmer very slowly 4 hours or until tender. If water accumulates as meat cooks drain it off and save for gravy later. Thicken gravy just before serving.

Tomato Pot Roast

3-4 lbs round bone beef chuck pot roast; 2 tblsps lard; 1½ tblsps salt; ½ tsp pepper; 1 onion; 1 tsp celery salt; 1½ cups tomato juice; ¼ clove garlic; 1 bay leaf; 2 whole cloves

Heat pot roast kettle 5 minutes over moderate heat. Add lard and let heat. Place roast in kettle, brown thoroughly on all sides about 30 minutes. Turn heat low, add all seasonings, sliced onion and tomato juice. Cover closely and let simmer for 3½ to 4 hours or until tender. Thicken tomato gravy with 2 tablespoons flour mixed with ½ cup cold water. This roast and meat gravy are delicious with plain boiled or baked potatoes or noodles.

56,000 Local Calls Daily at Kingston Telephone Office

Telephone Calls at All Time High During Business Day

Number of Operators Have Been Increased From 90 to 170 Since 1941

Public Can Help

More Equipment to Be Installed When Available

Telephone calls in Kingston are at an all time high and one of the busiest places in town is the central office switchboard of the New York Telephone Company and, in the opinion of C. E. Burnett, manager, the volume will go even higher in the next few months. At present, the number of calls is running about 35 per cent over pre-war levels and 20 per cent over this time last year.

Before the war, the number of local calls per average business day in Kingston was about 42,000. By this time last year, the figure was 47,000 and today it is running about 56,000.

Most of these calls are being handled quickly and efficiently. Sometimes, especially during the busy hours, which are 9:30 a. m. to 12 noon, calls come in so fast that the operators cannot handle them all promptly and slow answers occur.

Since 1941, the number of operators has been increased from 90 to 170 and, during the busy hours, every switchboard position is occupied. The force is adequate, the operators are alert to the situation and are doing their best to give satisfactory service under existing conditions.

The only complete solution is to install more switchboard equipment and that is exactly what the Telephone Company has done as far as it has been able to get the equipment.

Some additional operating positions have already been installed and the Kingston office now has 60 local and long distance positions in service. Thirteen more have been ordered for manufacture and installation, but it will be some time before they will be available.

The reason lies in a war-engendered shortage of raw materials plus a tremendous demand for telephone service which developed during the war and is continuing undiminished. During the war, these factors soon exhausted the safety margin of spare facilities and almost no telephone equipment for civilian use was manufactured. Since V-J Day, the trend has continued and almost everywhere, telephone calls are breaking records. Shortages of certain raw materials, essential to telephone manufacture, have hampered the Telephone Company in securing additional equipment to handle this flood of calls. Copper, lead, steel, cotton and rubber are all in scanty and irregular supply and the telephone industry cannot get anywhere near the amount they need and can use.

The Telephone Company is exerting every effort to obtain the needed equipment but the raw material situation is so uncertain that it is impossible to estimate when it can be obtained and installed. In the meantime, there are some things that telephone users can do to help the service for themselves and others. As far as possible, telephone calls should be made at periods other than the busy hours, which are 9:30 a. m. to 12 noon. Calls should be kept brief—within five minutes, if possible. It is a good idea to look in the telephone directory before calling "Information"—unnecessary calls to "Information" tie up equipment needlessly. And, with so many party line users, it is particularly important to be a good neighbor on party lines and avoid long conversations.

Births Recorded

The following births have been reported to the Board of Health:

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schoonmaker of 129 Chambers street, a son, George Henry, in Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Olsen of Ashokan, a son, Robert Sinclair, in Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Dowd of Flatbush, a son, Kevin, in Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bailey of 89 Broadway, a daughter Linda Marie, in Kingston Hospital.

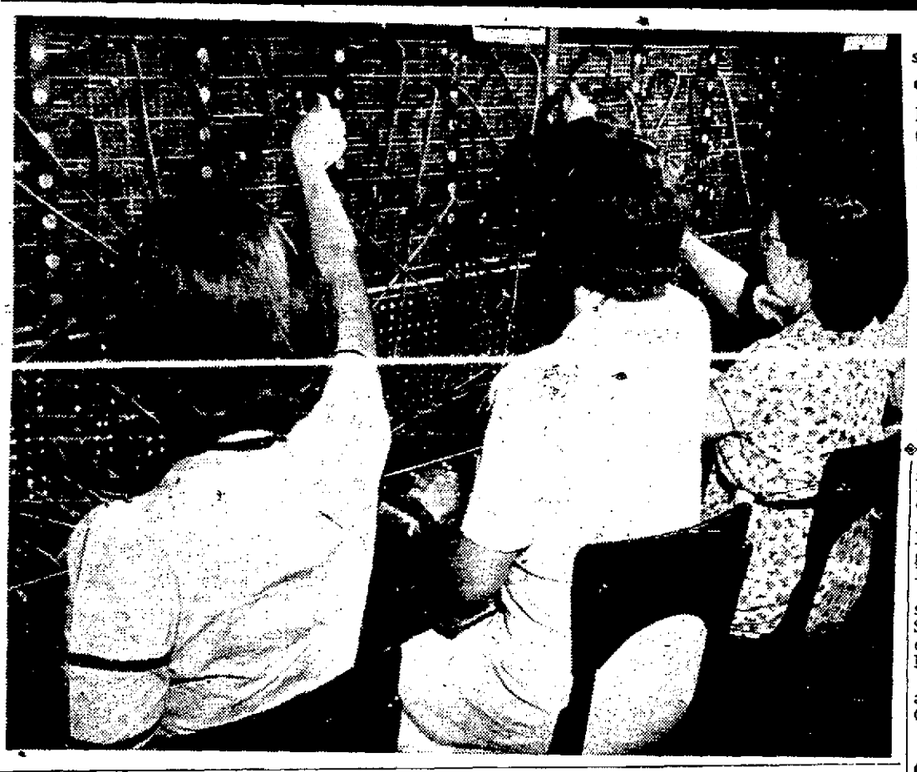

Age Limit Studied

If child marriages are not banned, people will have to get used to having married boys and girls—and perhaps even fathers and mothers of children—still compelled to attend school among other children, the Church of Ireland Moral Welfare Council pointed out in a letter to members of the Northern Commons, in Belfast. Boys 14 and girls 12 now can be married, with consent of parents. A new definition of "young person" is being sought and a law may be passed increasing the marriageable age to 18.

Protection Plans

It is estimated that about 30,000,000 people in the United States participate in some type of financial plan for protection against sickness.

Here is a section of the main switchboard at the Kingston office of the New York Telephone Company, where during the average business day some 56,000 local calls are handled by these operators shown at the board. Standing in the rear are three supervisors. The photograph was taken at 10:30 in the morning.

At left is a close up of the main switchboard at the local office, showing the many cords used to connect the record number of calls here.

The World Today

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Recent indications that the United States was preparing to consider friendly nations first in distributing relief and rehabilitation supplies when U.N.R.R.A. ends now has been followed with a definite refusal to lend money where it may be used against us.

However, the United States will overplay its hand if it values the effect of loan restrictions for more than they are worth. Hitler's bankrupt Germany, which many felt would "never be able to finance a long war," dashed forever and a day the idea that orderly financing is always necessary within a totalitarian sphere. Probably no area in the world could do quite so well, if completely isolated from world commerce, as that which the Russians now control.

As a matter of fact, reports from Washington that the new policy, first enunciated in the case of Czechoslovakia, might apply to a proposed $1,000,000,000 loan for Russia probably were received in Moscow with a shrug. They have been in a far from begging attitude.

Word traveled back and fourth between Washington and Moscow through unofficial channels a long time ago that the United States might arrange a rehabilitation loan and that the Russians might use $6,000,000,000 principally to buy equipment in the U. S. That would have been nice for American industry when the shortages are over, and might have resulted in some side deals regarding commerce in the Russian sphere, where the Moscow game of freeze-out has been bothering those who look ahead to the time when America will be exporting again, and who feel that trade barriers contribute to international enmity.

The Russians finally wrote a letter inquiring what the terms of such a loan might be if they did ask for it. It boiled down to an initial deal of $1,000,000,000. The letter got shunted aside for many weeks while the State Department was absorbing some of the wartime agencies which dealt with such matters, but finally came to light and the Russians were told in effect, "well, we'd like to talk about free traffic on the Danube at the same time." The Russians said "you know how we feel about that. Why don't we talk about the interest rate."

It became apparent that the Russians were willing but not so needy as to barter any part of their foreign policy. Instead, they made a deal with Sweden to cover some of their more immediate needs. Presumably, too, Russia will see that her satellites have the machinery and materials with which to work as long as they are producing mostly for her.

The Russians could be regretting the weapon they handed Byrnes at Paris when they questioned America's motives in aiding the small countries. He has made good political use of it. But Russia could also consider a temporary loss of face worthwhile if its end result is to drive the satellites more firmly into her economic arms.

Silk Industry Nursed

Sao Paulo, Brazil, has established a silk laboratory to inspect and standardize the product and to encourage development of sericulture, according to Sr. Melo Morais, Secretary of Agriculture for that State. Tremendous strides have been made in the silk industry of Sao Paulo, he says. There were only 15,000,000 mulberry trees in 1941, whereas there now are 250,000,000. The Department of Agriculture distributed 75,000,000 slips of this tree to encourage an industry which takes relatively little capital and yields large rewards.

Oils Used Extensively

During World War 2, about two-thirds of the total tonnages of all military goods used by U. S. fighting forces were gasoline, fuel oils and petroleum products.

Urge Applications By Survivors of World War 2 Vets

Only a few survivors of qualified World War 2 veterans have filed application for the social security benefits provided by the recent veterans' amendment to the Social Security Act, Jerome S. Blumberg, manager of the Kingston office of the Social Security Administration, Post Office Bldg., Broadway, reported today in urging the immediate filing of such applications by all survivors who may be eligible.

"While it was not expected that there would be any large number of beneficiaries who might qualify at once for the protection extended by the new section of the law, I feel confident that there are a number of persons in the Ulster county area who have not yet been in to see us and who should do so as soon as possible," Mr. Blumberg said.

The office manager explained that there are two groups of survivors eligible to file benefit claims at once on the accounts of qualified veterans who died between the time of their discharge from World War 2 service and the effective date of the amendment.

"In the first place, there are the families of deceased veterans who are now receiving monthly social security benefits or have received lump sums," Mr. Blumberg said. "These people may file for a recomputation of benefits, and if it is found that they would be entitled to a larger benefit under the amendment than they are now receiving or have received as the result of social security protection built up by the deceased veteran, they will receive the larger benefit.

"The second group is composed of the survivors of veterans who left no survivors insurance in the old-age and survivors insurance program and survivors who have not claimed insurance they would have been eligible to receive. They may file claim for benefits under the amendment, subject to certain qualifications the veteran must have had. Both groups have until midnight February 10, 1947, to come to our office and file applications for monthly benefits, if they are to be sure to receive benefits retroactive to the month in which the veteran died. I strongly suggest that they take care of this matter as soon as possible."

Survivors who are now receiving Veterans Administration payments cannot qualify for benefits under the Social Security Act amendment. Mr Blumberg warned. National Service Life Insurance is not considered as such a payment.

General requirements that a World War 2 veteran must meet in order for his survivors to qualify for social security benefits under the provisions of the amendment are:

That the veteran was discharged from the armed forces under circumstances other than dishonorable within four years and a day after the as-yet officially unproclaimed end of World War 2; that the veteran had at least 90 days of active duty between September 16, 1940, and the end of war, or, was discharged because of disability or injury incurred or aggravated in service in line of duty; and that the veteran died within three years of the date of his discharge.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Watchers of the Skies

Armonk, N. Y., Oct. 24 (AP)—Members of Air Scout Squadron 1 will search the skies anxiously for the next two weeks—waiting for their clubhouse to come flying in.

The clubhouse is to be made from a war-worn B-24 Liberator which the Northcastle Boys Council bought for $350 with the promise that it would be grounded permanently. The plane is at Augusta, Ga., and will be flown to Westchester county airport.

Things to Come

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 24 (AP)—The city sent one of its mightiest rotary snowplows into action yesterday—to collect leaves.

Reconverted by department of public works mechanics, the snow monster swept up the leaf piles, spewed them into a chute and thence into a truck moving alongside, which dumped them into the Genesee river.

Said one D.P.W. official: "Just a dress rehearsal for the winter show."

In the Swim

San Diego, Oct. 24 (AP)—Navy Bluejacket Bill Carlisle's has really been in the swim—with admirals.

The Dequeen, Ark., seaman wandered in on a swimming party recently at a swank hotel pool at San Bernardino. It included Fleet Admiral and Mrs. Chester W. Nimitz and a number of other high ranking naval officers. Carlisle was about to withdraw when Nimitz asked:

"Hey, sailor, would you like to go swimming with us?"

Carlisle joined the party and recalls that "Admiral Nimitz can outswim me—an I'm a good swimmer."

Holey Crusade

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 24 (AP)—Decatur's city council has a rush order to pass a new ordinance to assure proper filling of water service pipe excavations so they won't sink and leave a hole in the street.

Reason: The front end of Mayor James A. Hedrick's car fell into such a hole after a recent heavy rain, and it took a derrick to pull it out.

In the Dog House

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 4 (AP)—A dog, evicted from his kennel at the rear of a downtown building by a man who left home after a family quarrel, howled loud and long.

Police came in response to complaints and found the man asleep in the doghouse. "I whistled, the dog came out and I moved in," the intruder told the officers.

Police put the dog back in the kennel and took the man to jail for a night's lodging.

Certificates Filed

Jerry S. Quick of 171 Canal street, Ellenville, has filed a certificate stating he intends to do business in Ellenville under the name and style of A. & J. Trucking Company.

HaroldO'Brien of Creek Locks and Stephen Krupa, Route 1, Gardiner, have filed a partnership certificate with the county clerk stating they are doing business in the town of Gardiner under the name and style of Anchor Tavern.

Mink Hollow Holding and Trading Company, Inc., has filed a copy of the certificate of incorporation with the county clerk. The corporation is authorized to issue 150 shares of common stock and the principal office of the corporation is located at 375 Albany avenue, Kingston. There may be not less than three or more than seven directors and the directors to serve until the first annual election are Raymond J. Mino, 142 Main street; Ruth K. Friedell of 80 Franklin street and Lulu S. Countryman, of 93 Johnston avenue, Kingston.

Will Debate on Russia's Attitude

WILLIAM MANDEL

HALLETT ABEND

The teachers of the Southeastern zone of the New York State Teachers Association, about 7,000 in number, will assemble in New York city, November 1, for the association's 101st annual meeting. The Southeastern zone, one of the association's ten geographic divisions, includes all public school teachers in Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Sullivan, Westchester counties, and in parts of Dutchess and Ulster counties.

Albert DesJardins, a teacher in Eastchester High School and president of the Southeastern zone, will preside at a general session, Friday morning at St. Nicholas Auditorium. The feature of the program will be a debate on the subject, "Is Russia a Force for Peace?" William Mandel, correspondent and author of books on Russia, will uphold the affirmative, while Hallett Abend, former Far Eastern correspondent of the New York Times, will present the opposing point of view. Miss Helen C. McCormick, a vice-president of the State Association, will report on recent association activities.

The afternoon will be devoted to three section meetings. Elementary school teachers, meeting at the Central High School of Needle Trades will hear Mrs. Maxime Vollmer speak on "From Elsie Dinsmore to Little Orphan Annie." Junior high school teachers will meet at St. Nicholas Arena, where a panel discussion will be presented on United States domestic and foreign problems. Joseph A. Brandt, former president of the University of Oklahoma, will be chairman of the panel. Dean Ernest O. Melby, New York University School of Education, will be moderator of a panel discussion for high school teachers at the School of Education auditorium. The subject will be "Basic Issues in Secondary Education."

Chairmen include: Teacher Certification, Mary L. Sartwell, Port Chester; Tenure, Newell Gilmour, Yonkers; Welfare, Evan E. Jones, Port Chester. Convention committee chairman are: Exhibits, Elsie W. Seating, Henry M. Garvey, Eastchester.

increases can be expected in bread and baked goods; jams, jellies and preserves; dry beans; canned fish; bananas and most whisky.

Trade sources generally expected some temporary price rises but said there should be a gradual return to the old price system of supply and demand.

Liquor industry spokesmen predicted that some aged Bourbon, Scotch and other whisky may appear again but at somewhat higher prices. They said O.P.A. ceilings had tended to keep them from markets.

A New York bakery leader anticipated little change in consumer prices of bread and baked goods, saying he expected flour prices to remain about the same. But a Chicago miller spokesman forecast a jump of 25 to 60 cents a hundred pounds on flour.

to cooperate with the federal government on on emergency housing for veterans.

Brewster said the national administration had permitted the export of two billion feet of lumber which he said would "furnish homes for a million veterans and their dependents."

"No governor can stop the export of essential lumber," Brewster added. "No governor can stop shipment overseas of two million tons of steel. No governor can control the export of nails, or bathtubs or automobiles. No governor can defy federal regulations that leave the bewildered homebuilder and home-seeker in hopeless confusion while glorified honky tonks bloom on every hand."

Brewster made no mention of Dewey by name.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

ONE FOR THE SECOND

This is an interesting twins question: "Is there any obligation to send a duplicate present when the stork brings twins? I had sent a present for the baby earlier —something I made myself and therefore not something the parents can duplicate."

While there is no actual obligation to send a second present, I think that anyone really interested in the mother and the babies would be especially kind to make a duplicate.

In Mourning

Dear Mrs. Post: I just lost my dear father. My mother wants me to mourn and stay home for one year and wear black clothes for one year. My friends tell me that only for a funeral should one wear black any more. Will you please tell me what I should do?

Answer: It is true that mourning customs have changed greatly in the last few years. One who goes into "old-fashioned mouprning" and stays in it for a great length of time is looked upon as doing something conspicious, rather than showing proper respect. You should have worn black at the funeral, of course, and perhaps for a few weeks after that. But very best taste for one who is young is "absence of color"—black, white or gray—and for no longer than three or four months.

Problem of Sole Attendant

Dear Mrs. Post: What should be done with the maid of honor's bouquet when she must adjust the bride's train before the recessional and there is no other attendant? It hardly seems likely that the bride would hold both bouquets or that the attendant would hand her bouquet to any of the men. What should be done?

Answer: She hands the bride's bouquet to her and lays her own on the floor beside her.

Rooms Scarce in Manila

American business men who go to the Phillippines will have a hard time finding accommodations, for some time to come, Manila authorities advise. There is only one suitable hotel available, which the Army does not control, and reservations must be made far in advance. Meals are likely to cost from $7 to $10 a day, taxicab service is negligible and transportation generally unsatisfactory. They should bring their own cars, if possible, the authorities add.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, Oct. 24—Three members of the Lloyd Rod and Gun club, John Taranta, Walter Cole and Joseph Tainor, assisted Game Protector Albert Roberts and two men from the State Fish Hatchery at Summitville release 600 brown trout in the Pancake Hollow brook and Black Creek Wednesday morning. The club met Tuesday night for a business session at Cherry Hill Tavern, with John J. Batten presiding. The ways and means committee, Lloyd Maynard, chairman, reported they were still in search of suitable property for the club grounds. Plans were started for a public trap shoot to be held at the range on the Nardone farm some time about Thanksgiving. Mr. Batten, head of the Lloyd Rifle and Pistol club, reported that with men working each Thursday night the small bore range in the basement of the high school is just about completed and before long club matches will be held there. Attending were Mr. Batten, William Upright, Gabriel DeLorenzo, Alfred Haefeli, Walter Cole, Albert Roberts, Albert Lester, Joseph Schaffer, Paul Fauri, Leslie Williams, Lloyd Maynard, Ralph Fraino, Harold Lyons, Joseph Trainor, William Martin, Frank Marone, Dom Vertullo, John Brucklacher and John Taranta.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb Jones and daughter are spending two weeks with relatives at Plattsburg.

Eugene Noe, Percy Terpening and Peter Roumelis are deer hunting this week in the Adirondacks.

Ollie McMurdy of the G.L.F. staff will leave Friday night to attend a three-day meeting at headquarters in Ithaca.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Batten were Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Merritt and family, Bayside, L. I., Mr. and Mrs. Roger Merritt and children of Sidney and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Merritt of Lake Mohonk.

Bertram Cottine, Sr., who has a position in Washington, D. C., spent the week-end at home.

John Crowley, head of the commercial department at the high school, was taken to his home at Wilmington Tuesday, due to illness. Mrs. Homer Muller has been substituting for him at the school.

Lloyd Post 193, American Legion, will hold a semi-formal Armistice Day dance in the high school auditorium on the night of November 11. John Taranta is general chairman.

Frank Monteleone and a partner from Boughkeepsie have purchased the meat market and property of Breder and Kron on Main street and will operate it.

Highland High School will play Roosevelt High of East Park at the Highland field, Saturday afternoon.

LeGrand Haviland, commander of Lloyd Post, American Legion, with several other members attended the county meeting in Wallkill Tuesday night.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Filkins is being repainted.

George D. Muller and William Stevens with Robert Johnston of Marlborough, will spend the week-end in camp at Wanasink Lake and do some partridge hunting.

Bulgaria Drops In Diplomatic View

State Department Accuses Russia of Forcing Suppression

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP) — Bulgaria's swift compliance with Kremlin inspired censorship orders plummeted that nation's chances today for speedy American diplomatic recoghition.

The suppressive action that brought a new outcry from this government also:

Placed fresh emphasis on an apparently developing Russian policy to slam the door against what Moscow regards as "interference" in the Balkans by the western powers.

Underscored anew the ideological differences between Russia and the western Allies which are at the root of many of the problems now confronting the United Nations General Assembly in New York.

The State Department bluntly accused Russia yesterday by forcing the Sofia government to suppress an American protest against its failure to provide guarantees for a free Bulgarian election next Sunday.

The department charged that Col. Gen. Sergei Biryusov, Soviet member of the three-powered Allied Control Commission, had issued flat instructions to block publication of the protest in the Bulgarian press.

Hence this government promptly put on its shortwave radio—"The Voice of America"—a message to the Bulgarian people informing them in their own language both of the protest and the Russian-imposed censorship.

Angrily, the State Department asserted that the suppression constituted a "direct contradiction" of Bulgarian Prime Minister Kimon George IV's statement that freedom of the press there "is fully assured."

Department officials withheld official comment on the next step. Privately, however, they said the incident certainly would chalk up a black mark in the already troubled affairs between this country and Bulgaria.

This country now maintains only a political representative in Sofia rather than a minister with full-fledged diplomatic status.

Three Are Fined $257.50 in Taking Deer Out of Season

Pleading guilty to charges of killing a fawn deer out of season, Michael Veterie, 28, Glasco, disclosed upon arraignment Wednesday before Justice of the Peace Glenford Myers of Saugerties, that he had shot at something which had moved early in the morning only to find that he had killed the deer.

Veterie, Frank Mauro, 25, and Dennis Mauro, 22, also of Glasco, were taken into custody by James H. Overbaugh, Roy J. Palmer and Roger Vredenburgh, game protectors of the Kingston office.

The trio was fined a total of $257.50 by the justice of peace. All pleaded guilty to charges.

Anthony Spada, 57, Glasco, arraigned for criminal action, was fined $10 for hunting bear out of season on Wednesday.

Thomas Says Politics May Have Caused Break

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) said today that politics may have been the cause of the recent sharp break in cotton prices. "If my state goes Republican in November," he said at the opening of an agriculture committee investigation of the market drop, "it will be largely because of this incident and O.P.A." He added that Oklahoma cotton farmers suspect the decline last week "was brought about deliberately for political effect."

Court Action Filed

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Twelve Manhattan and Brooklyn department stores filed a court action against a teamsters union local official and others asking them to show cause why they should not be punished for "criminal contempt" for allegedly disobeying a court order banning picketing. The action was filed in Supreme Court and named Joseph Tortorella, president of Local 804, International Brotherhood of Teamsters (A.F.L.) Leonard Geiger, a union organizer, and others. Hearing was set for next Thursday.

Prices Are Dropping

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Market news analysts said today prices were going steadily downward and housewives' resistance to high costs were being felt as far back as the livestock yards. Steer beef was down as much as $4 per 100 pounds from yesterday, with choice and good carcasses selling at $30 to $35 per 100 pounds. Market News Analyst C. F. House reported last Friday, he said, beef of the same grades was selling for $62 to $64.

Miss Earhart's Mother Hasn't Given Up Hope

Los Angeles, Oct. 24 (AP) — Amelia Earhart's mother hasn't given up hope.

Here on a flying visit from her San Francisco home, white-haired, 79-year-old Mrs. Amy Otis Earhart told reporters: "Some day I shall see her return."

Miss Earhart disappeared in the Pacific on a round-the-world flight in 1937, and no clue to her fate has ever been found. Her mother came here to watch unveiling of a portrait of the flier, painted by Ralph Tripp, for presentation to Amelia Earhart Post 678 of the American Legion.

sumably referred only to the fact that he has offered to meet Lewis either at Tule Lake, Calif., on November 1 or in Washington after November 6, when his western inspection tour is due to end.

While Lewis himself remained silent, William Blizzard, president of the United Mine Workers District 17 assailed what he termed the government's one-sided interpretation of the existing contract as "a plot by unscrupulous members of the Democratic party to destroy our union."

Simultaneously, the National Coal Association—commenting for the first time on the new crisis brewing in their mines—declared the strike threat constitutes "a challenge to the government's authority."

"It will be interesting to see what steps the government takes to protect the people from a coal shortage now that the government occupies the place of mine manager," the association declared in a statement.

Some officials believed that President Truman, faced with a deadlock between his secretary of interior and Lewis, might deal with the matter at his (10:30 a. m., E.S.T. news conference today.

Coal stocks today are much the same as when Lewis' miners struck for 59 days six months ago—something over a month's supply.

Mr. Truman was asked if he planned any special action to decontrol wages by November 1—the deadline which Lewis has set for the start of negotiations on a new contract to replace the existing pact between the United Mine Workers and the government.

In the October 14 address, to which he referred reporters, Mr. Truman said that decontrol of meat necessitated speeding up removal of price ceilings all along the line and that this in turn would accelerate wage decontrol.

Government officials have said [illegible] that no specific action to lift wage lids is likely, but that rather the administration will follow a policy of having pay controls fall off automatically as individual industries are freed of price controls.

At his news conference today, Mr. Truman would not be drawn into any elaboration of his statement that the answer on wages could be found in his speech on meat.

Pressed by a reporter as to whether he meant there will be no formal wage decontrol order, President reiterated that that had been covered in his speech last week. He said he would have no further comment.

In response to a question as to whether he had any statement to make on the status of the Wage Stabilization Board, Mr. Truman replied that he did not, and that he is not planning to make one this week. The status of the Board is clouded by the resignation of the two industry members of the panel.

No Special Session

Without directly mentioning the threatened coal strike, another questioner asked Mr. Truman whether he had any intention of calling Congress into a special session. He said no, adding that congressional leaders could arrange a special session but he had no knowledge of any such plan.

In demanding reopening of the wage agreement covering 400,000 soft coal miners, Lewis had cited changes in the administration wage policy as one of the reasons for his action.

The U.M.W. chief told Secretary Krug that unless new wage talks [illegible] November 1, the [illegible] contract would be "void." While Krug has expressed doubt of a walkout on that date, the miners traditionally have observed a policy of "no contract, no work."

Mr. Truman was asked at the news conference whether Lewis' ultimatum to Krug, now on a western tour, had been relayed to the Chief Executive.

That's in the hands of Mr. Krug, the President replied. He reiterated this statement a couple of times, even when he was asked if the strike threat would be taken up at his cabinet meeting tomorrow. He only smiled when it was suggested that Krug is a member of the cabinet.

Krug told newsmen in Boulder City, Nev., last night that he didn't see how he could be in Washington November 1.

"But I don't think they will wait," he added. "After a [illegible] time and place of the meeting have been set."

Kellburn Case Continues in Court

Action Is Made to Get Rental; No Cause in Jackson Case

Continued today in Supreme Court was the contract action brought by George Ohley of Saugerties against Kellburn Manufacturing Company, Inc., of Saugerties, an action to recover some $7,000 for rental of machinery which Mr. Ohley claims he allowed the defendant corporation to use to get started in business back in 1941. Mr. Ohley, who formerly conducted a similar business in Saugerties, claims he contracted with defendants for use of the machinery and took a job as superintendent of the Kellburn plant at $65 a week.

Plaintiff claims he sought payment of the rental money but failed to get it. In 1945 when the Kellburn plant ceased operations he demanded the rental payments but was refused. An action on contract was then started. N. LeVan Haver appears for plaintiff and Andrew J. Cook for defendant corporation.

A verdict for defendant of no cause of action was returned by the jury in the negligence action brought by William Jackson and another against S. & D. Motor Lines, Inc., and another of Fulton. Plaintiff sought in an action in Supreme Court to receive damages for personal injuries and property damages as a result of an accident in April 16, 1945 on Route 9-W south of Saugerties.

Plaintiff operated a passenger car and the defendant operated a motor truck and tractor. The driver of the truck was passing another vehicle going in the same southerly direction when the Jackson car and the truck collided. N. Joseph Friedman and A. J. Cook appeared for plaintiffs and N. LeVan Haver for defendants.

Rua Has Narrow Escape When Car Falls Into Creek

Walter Rua, 24, of Saugerties had a narrow escape from serious injury about 10:40 o'clock this morning when his coupe headed north, went out of control when the steering apparatus went bad as he approached the bottom of the hill in Saugerties village just south of the Esopus creek bridge.

The car plunged through the embankment at the easterly side of the road and went over a five-foot drop where it broke in two throwing Mr. Rua into the water. He was able to swim about twenty-five feet to shore.

Chief of Police Richter said Mr. Rua suffered from cuts and abrasions of the face and neck, submersion and shock but appeared to have escaped serious injury. He was removed to his home and treated for the injuries.

jor before more than 2,000 amazed Washingtonians last night, then deftly gave them Chopin's Minuet Waltz and a nocturne.

It was her second major appearance on a concert stage since she began her formal music studies at the age of four. She modestly asked Piastro to "tell the men" her performance with the Chamber Music Guild Orchestra of Washington was the "first time I've ever played with an orchestra."

The critics called it an exceptional display of keen memory, technique and feeling.

Her teacher, Mrs. Raleigh Drake, said Doris mastered the nocturne in four days.

Mr. and Mrs. Redfords Webster, her parents, said the piano has fascinated her ever since she countered a toy one at the age of two.

"Why," said Webster somewhat ruefully, she's up and at the piano at 6 o'clock on Sunday morning.

Girl, 6, Plays With Mozart Orchestra

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—When a six-year-old pianist solos brilliantly with a full-fledged Mozart orchestra, Maestro Mishel Piastro declared today, "it's nothing short of a miracle."

But little Doris Webster of Fredericksburg, Va., just said "it's fun"—along with dolls, toy guns, going to school and playing outdoors.

Eight Thousand Apply

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—Eight thousand disabled veterans have applied for new automobiles under the government's "cars for amputees" program, but at the last count only 75 machines had been delivered.

The Veterans Administration announced today that about 5,650 applications have been approved, "less than half" rejected and the remainder still under consideration.

Congress appropriated $30,000,000 to supply the cars at a maximum of $1,600 each.

Certificates Filed

Robert Schoonmaker of 121 Cedar street and Lawrence M. Gumaer of 112 Ten Broeck avenue have filed a certificate with the county clerk stating they are doing business at 61½ Broadway under the name and style of Central Bar and Restaurant Supply Company.

Joseph Granger of 29 Roff avenue, Saugerties, Park, N. Y., has filed a certificate with the county clerk stating he is doing business at Kerhonkson under the name and style of The New Venice Hotel.

Getting All U.S. Cars They Want in Mexico

Laredo, Tex., Oct. 24 (AP)—Mexicans are paying fantastic prices for new American automobiles but they're probably getting all they want, a survey of Texas ports of entry reveals.

An estimated 12,000 new cars have been imported into Mexico legally since the first of the year. An equal number has been smuggled, officials estimate.

New cars have been known to bring as much as $8,000 (U. S. money), and the average is about twice the U. S. price.

Separation Is Planned

Hollywood, Oct. 24 (AP)—Tyrone Power and Annabella, whose seven-year marriage has often been described as one of Hollywood's happiest, have decided to separate. The announcement came from Power's studio (20th Fox), confirming rumors heard with increasing frequency in recent months. The couple telephoned the news from New York, where they met yesterday as the actor flew in from Miami to conclude a two-month flying tour through South America with Cesar Romero. Power's studio said he would return here later this week, but that Annabella would remain in New York to do a play.

R. D. Whitt Dies

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—Ralph D. Whitt, 31, died last night at Emergency Hospital of wounds suffered in a double shooting which also took the life of Margaret Hogan, 41 year old government clerk. Whitt, a department store rug salesman, had been under technical arrest on a homicide charge since Monday night, when neighbors found the couple lying in Miss Hogan's apartment. She had been shot three times in the abdomen and he had two bullet wounds in the head. Sgt. Bernard Crooke, police homicide investigator, said Whitt apaprently shot Miss Hogan and himself. Whitt came here from High Point, N. C.

Ruled Off Ballot

Atlanta, Oct. 24 (AP)—Aurelius S. Scott, 47-year-old Negro, was ruled off the ballot today as a candidate for coroner of Fulton county (Atlanta) after a hearing in which evidence was offered that he had failed to fulfill residence requirements.

Cotton Duck To Be Sails

As part of a $10,000,000 plan to restore China's fishing fleet, including both junks and sampans, badly damaged during the nine-year war with Japan, relief agencies have agreed to purchase 100,000 square yards of cloth for sails. Thus, the fishing fleet soon will put to sea again with new sails, pieced together from cotton duck, taken from the left-over stocks of government surplus. Fish from Chinese waters are expected to save thousands of persons from starvation this winter.

Fights Baffle Bobbies

London police are going to "deal very seriously" with those responsible for a revival of cock-fighting and bull-terrier fights, if they can lay their hands on the promoters. Trouble is, they usually hear about the events after they have taken place and thousands of pounds have changed hands on the results. Dogs do battle in locked and barred rooms in the city or suburbs, and whiskey-doped fighting cocks tear the life out of each other in hollows high in the mountains of Northern England.

More than 200,000 forest fires occur annually in the United States.

Ives Says Strange Philosophy Cause of Reconversion Delay

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Irving M. Ives, Republican senatorial nominee, says delays in reconversion can be attributed to the "strange philosophy" of the Democratic National Administration that "the American people cannot be trusted with their own free economy."

"The plain fact," he told rallies last night at Forest Hills, and Queens Village, Queens, "is that to overcome the tremendous problems of reconversion requires as great a cooperative effort from all parts of the economy as winning the war.

"The Truman administration doesn't see it that way. These men have never learned how to get the people's cooperation."

"Week after dismal week," he continued, "new crisis boil up to engulf the unhappy leaders of the present Democratic party.

"I should be the first to grant that the scope of this nation's reconversion problem is immense. But I shall remain the last to be convinced that the men in Washington comprehend it or have approached it wisely or well.

"They cannot break themselves of the war-born habit of using the vast power vested in the federal government during the emergency. Now that the time has come to hand the government back to the people, they do not know how, and they do not trust what the people may do."

Earlier, in a talk before 100 members of the first voters committee for Dewey and Ives at the Hotel Roosevelt, the senatorial candidate said the Democratic nominees were trying to bring to Albany "the confusion, disaster and general mixup of Washington."

"I hope the people of the state choose wisely and keep Washington out of Albany," he said, "and let a breath of Albany get into Washington."

Official Tally Shows 6,006,964 Persons Can Vote

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 24—(AP)—Official registration figures for the Nov. 5 election show 6,006,964 persons, a record number for a non-presidential year, eligible to vote in New York state.

The office of Secretary of State Thomas J. Curran reported yesterday that of the total, 3,293,828 were registered in counties outside of New York city. In the five New York city boroughs, 2,713,136 are eligible.

Total state registration for 1938, last non-war gubernatorial election year, was 5,559,876. In the last gubernatorial year, 1942, 5,173,465 persons signed up. 1946 county registration figures include: Albany 142,318; Dutchess 60,968; Nassau 273,535; Orange 71,861; Putnam 18,272; Rockland 42,964; Suffolk 136,190; Sullivan [illegible]; Ulster 55,176; Westchester 269,960.

Movies To Be Shown At Y.M.C.A. Thursday

The featured movie "Deadline for Action" and "Charlie Chaplin and the Count," sponsored by the Ulster County American Labor Party in conjunction with the Democratic party will be shown in the dining room of the Y.M.C.A. Thursday evening at 8 o'clock instead of the Odd Fellows' Hall, Brewster street, as originally scheduled.

Speakers for the evening will be Myron Hopper, American Labor Party and Democratic nominee for state assembly, and Joseph Kooperman, American Labor Party candidate for state senate. They will be heard at an outside designated spot to be announced after the showing of the two films.

Library Is Opened

Oxford, England, Oct. 24—(AP)—King George formally opened today the new $4,000,000 extension of Oxford's Bodleian Library, toward which Americans contributed. The King dedicated the structure to the advancement of universal learning and international good-will. Founded by Sir Thomas Bodley more than 300 years ago, the library has housed not only masterpieces of English scholarship and art but books and companion cultural treasures of many other lands. Queen Mary laid the foundation stone of the new building in 1937.

Request Is Rejected

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—National Housing Agency officials said today that Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt has rejected a request of Michigan Veterans' groups for removal of all housing controls except rent. Wyatt ordered a study of the flow of building materials into Michigan and specifically into Detroit, however, to determine whether additional supplies should be diverted to the area, they told a reporter.

One Soldier Dies, 18 Ill From 'Cocktails'

Frankfurt, Germany, Oct. 24 (AP)—One American soldier is dead and 18 are ill, four critically, from drinking "cocktails" of poison alcohol and fruit juice in a prison stockade at Heidelberg, the U. S. Third Army announced today.

Apparently with a party in mind, the soldiers poured an alcoholic fluid, of a type used in printing duplicating machines, into the fruit juice although the can containing the fluid was marked poison the announcement said.

Physicians said they hoped to save those who are ill, but the ultimate toll might not be known for several days.

Wheeler Sees Trend Toward Republicans

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP) — Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) said today that there is a "Republican trend."

Talking with reporters after a White House visit, Wheeler said congressional races will be "close all through the list."

He added that on the basis of registrations Democrats should win in Montana, Washington and California, but went on:

"There is a Republican trend, however, and a general apathy among the voters, particularly in those states.

"The big silent vote will hold the answer to these elections. No one can tell what is going to happen. A lot of people are not talking."

Sugar Refineries Sign With Unions

Some Relief May Come With Movement of Some Supplies

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Housewives, bakers and diners-out were promised relief from the sugar shortage as two of the city's largest sugar refineries came to terms with striking union truck drivers.

The first refined sugar to be distributed in New York by the American Sugar Refining Company—one of the firms—since the truck strike began almost two months ago was loaded into trucks at the company's Brooklyn plant last night.

A company official said the 1,200 refinery workers who were laid off last week-end would be recalled Monday. He said there was some sugar inside the plant, which has a normal refining capacity of 3,000,000 pounds a day, but declined to estimate the amount.

The other sugar firm is the National Sugar Refining Company which said it planned to resume deliveries next Monday. The company signed with local 282 of the A.F.L. teamsters union while American signed with Local 807. The other local involved is 816.

Both settlements were on the basis of the so-called "Bohack plan," granting drivers $71.40 for a 40-hour week instead of $64 for a 44-hour week.

But ample deliveries of sugar depended on the outcome of the maritime strike, which is holding up the unloading of sugar from ships in New York harbor.

Shortly before the announcement of the contract signing a threat to the reopening of 170 Safeway stores in the metropolitan area developed as employes demanded full pay for the five weeks the stores were closed as the result of the strike.

About 500 A. & P. stores reopened Tuesday and Safeway was scheduled to resume business tomorrow. Both signed contract embodying the Bohack provisions.

Spokesmen for Local 474, retail, wholesale and department store union, C.I.O., which claims to represent 1,200 Safeway employes, said an emergency meeting had been called for tonight to consider the company's refusal to pay the employes for the five weeks.

The union charged the refusal amounted to "discrimination" because store managers, company supervisors and office employes had continued to receive pay checks.

Increase Is Approved

New York, Oct. 24—(AP)—The Board of Estimates today approved an $18,500,000 salary increase for 33,000 New York city transit workers who will get a 20-cent hourly boost retroactive to July 1. The action carried out the recommendation of Mayor William O'Dwyer's transit advisory committee.

Maryland Is 'Hot' In 'Eastern Shore' And Western Areas

By JOHN F. CHANDLER

Baltimore, Oct. 24—(AP)—Two years ago Dudley G. Roe captured a bitter Maryland primary decision over the Democratic incumbent, David J. Ward.

The battle almost cost the party its 1st district seat in the House. As it was, Roe managed to defeat State Senator Wilmer Fell Davis, Republican minority leader, 30,257 votes to 29,298.

Roe survived another strenuous primary this year, defeating Emerson C. Harrington Jr., Dorchester county state's attorney and son of the late governor. He will be opposed by Ted Miller, young Easton attorney who was an army colonel in China.

Republican strategists say Roe is due to be ousted. The Democratic situation on the "Eastern Shore" is weak, they contend, because the party has no candidates for state-wide office from that section, composed of nine of the state's 23 counties.

Democrats are confident, however, that Roe will stick. No Republican has represented the first district in 25 years.

Roe has battled the O.P.A., is a farmer, banker and grain dealer, and one Democratic leader calls him "a better Republican than the Republican candidate."

Another hotly disputed district is the sixth. J. Glenn Beall, Republican incumbent, defeated Daniel F. McMullen, Democrat, two years ago, 63,079 to 45,877. Both were from Allegany county, a Republican stronghold along with Garrett county, westernmost county in the state.

His Democratic opponent this time will be a radio commentator, Arch McDonald.

Democrats see a 50-50 situation in the 6th district. Montgomery, Frederick and Washington counties, normally Democratic, must give McDonald a good majority to offset Allegany and Garrett counties.

"We have no concern about Beall," Republican leaders say. "He is definitely sure of re-election."

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

THE CAMERA CORNER

The Camera Club—How To Form It

There's an old saying that if two Americans met on a desert island, they would promptly form a club, elect officers and hold a convention.

Photographers are by no means exempt from this admirable national trait, to judge from the thousands of camera clubs now flourishing and from the letters of readers who want to know how to form their own clubs.

No foolproof method has ever been worked out for organizing a camera club. It depends on your local situation, on what you want from the club and on the potential leadership. But the following suggestions have worked successfully for others and may for you:

The First Meeting

Hold an informal meeting of those interested. Elect a temporary chairman and then discuss objectives, finances and meeting places or club headquarters. Appoint a Committee on Organization to proceed with organization details; prepare a constitution and by-laws; arrange a meeting place; pick a date and place for an organization meeting and invite all local photographers who are potential members.

A lot of advance preparation should be done for the second meeting. If possible, set up an interesting program to follow the formal organization. But first, read and adopt the constitution and by-laws of the new club, elect permanent officers, decide on membership dues and approve an outline of the year's program.

Perhaps this is all too formal and businesslike for you, especially if your club is to be a small one of a dozen or so members. In that case these suggestions are in order:

An Informal Camera Club

Get your group together, a congenial group that speaks the same language — photography. The meetings will be held in rotation, perhaps twice a month, in the homes of the members. No nominating committee, no officers are necessary. The member at whose house the meeting is held will be president for the night. He will send out the notices, arrange the program and provide the eats for a half hour of social activity after the photographic meeting.

The host of the evening bears the expense in his turn. If any extraordinary expense turns up, simply chip in a few dollars equally without fuss. However, it might be a good idea to have a corresponding secretary with a permanent address for receiving mail and prints.

These suggestions are necessarily sketchy. For more complete information and for help in building your program, you can't do better than by writing to Camera Club Division, Photographic Society of America, Franklin Institute, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania.

Photo Forum

1. I have several very grainy negatives which I can't duplicate. I haven't been able to get a single satisfactory print for them. What can I do about it?

ANSWER: Graininess once obtained in a negative cannot be decreased. However, satisfactory prints can be obtained by doing one of the two following things: (1) Make a print on a soft semi-matte paper such as Brovira Velvet and then copy it submerged in water (2) Make a print and then have it retouched by hand or air brush methods.

A TIP IN TIME

A rubber ear syringe is a handy gadget for blowing dust from the lens surface and hard-to-reach corners inside your camera.

Compose your picture carefully Lineup your subject in your view finder and "hold it there" while making the exposure.

To keep exposed film pack from getting fogged or light-struck, keep the box it came in and wrap the exposed pack in the foil before replacing it in the box.

Presbyterians Hit Revival of Klan; U.N. Is Criticized

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 24 (AP)—The Presbyterian Synod of New York, expressing support of the state commission against discrimination, deplores "the resurgence of the Ku Klux Klan and the increase in Negro lynchings."

A report of a committee on education and social action, adopted last night, also censured use of alcoholic beverages, but a recommendation that pastors and church members refrain from drinking was deleted during debate.

The synod called for immediate admission of 100,000 Jews to the United States and praised the United Nations as the best present means toward peace.

The synod called the U.N. an "imperfect instrument," however, and urged "continued study and experimentation" in an effort to progress toward "settled order and peace."

Lieut. Governor, Donovan Speak

gency housing program for the veterans.

Colleges for Veterans

"We established three G. I. colleges so that every veteran who wanted to continue his education could do so. Thirty six hundred veterans [illegible] ated. Five new [illegible] were set up throughout the state.

"We have been criticized for spending $[illegible] of the taxpayers' money for veterans in need of recuperation from wounds suffered in the war [illegible]. I am proud to say that the Dewey administration [illegible] camp for [illegible] Mt. McGregor.

"A wounded veteran does not have to sign a pauper's oath for admission to the rest camp and when he is there he is treated not as a pauper but as an honored guest. It is [illegible] we can do for those who offered their lives that the American way of life could be continued.

Sees Bonus Soon

"As to the payment of a bonus, that will be done as speedily as the state constitution allows. The necessary amendment was instituted and passed by the 1946 legislature. I am confident it will be passed a second time by the 1947 legislature, and there's not a doubt in my mind that it will be overwhelmingly approved by the people in November, 1947.

"We are proud, too, that the greatest advancement in public health ever made in this state was [illegible] by the Dewey administration. A part of this program is designed to eliminate tuberculosis within the next quarter of a century.

"Hand and hand with this is the program to provide better housing and care for the mentally ill and to provide for them 12,500 new beds in the state's institutions.

"While the veteran was courageously serving his nation, his state accumulated a surplus of more than half a billion dollars, the largest surplus of any state in the history of our nation. This money will be spent for schools, mental and tuberculosis hospitals, highways, parks and camp sites and prisons.

Ahead of Washington

"The Republican administration [illegible] an elaborate program to take care of the citizens of the state and an emergency program that is far ahead of the setup of the federal government. And more than that we have the money in the bank to pay for it.

"We in Albany embarked upon this overall program because we were aware of, and responsive to, human aspiration and human needs. I believe the program to be the most enlightened of any in the entire history of our state.

General Donovan's Address

Major General Donovan in his address said:

Forty three per cent of the adult males of America have worn or are wearing the American uniform. . . . They are a majority living in a democracy where the will of the majority is exercised and achieved, yet where the rights of the minority must be respected. I urged upon the veteran his duty to identify himself with a political party as the instrument for attaining the policies which he thinks should be adopted for the benefit of the people as a whole.

Applies to Labor Too

What is true of the veterans is also true of labor, of capital and of religious, racial and other groups which we call minorities. So we see that it is not in the individual interest of the citizens to have a government by pressure groups and to have problems dealt with separately for the benefit of one group to the exclusion of the other. If this rule be followed we are all bound to be hurt in the long run.

Wrong Economy

Yet the basic fault of the Democratic national administration is that it undertakes to deal with the domestic and foreign problems of this nation as if they were divisible, that each problem could be taken separate and apart and be solved with no relation to the effect of that solution upon the people as a whole.

We have seen how this has worked in the imposition of controls. They have failed to realize that our economy is a tightly woven fabric in which one misplaced thread spoils the pattern. They do not seem to understand that when livestock does not move from the farm or the range to market there can be no by-products, soapmakers must slow down the production. Nor do they see the consequences from the lack of soap which reduces washings by laundries and housewives. To cover their economic ignorance they accuse the Republicans of a plot when, for want of lard, huge baking plants close. And we can see this in the long list of shortages that are crippling American industry, affecting housing for the veterans and reducing our vitally needed production.

Production the Answer

They seem unwilling to learn that higher living standards can be obtained only by increasing production. Unless this takes place higher wages lead to further rise in prices. Our real effort should be to increase our output to the point where past wage increases can be absorbed and prices can be lowered.

The people will shortly take the first move toward the correction of this situation when they choose Irving M. Ives to represent them in the United States Senate. Doing so they will choose well. Irving Ives has served the people of this state faithfully and with distinction. He will continue to do so in Washington.

The people are also taking stock of their state administration. They like what they see. They like the frictionless teamwork which Governor Dewey and his associates have given the state in the past four years. They like the way their institutions have been cared for and their money conserved.

Senator Wicks Presides

Senator Wicks, chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, presided at the rally, which was the highlight of the political campaign this fall.

He spoke briefly in opening the rally, saying:

The decision which the voters will make at the polls this year will have a decisive effect on the future of America; on the continuation of the American system of government and the American way of life.

I firmly believe that the people of this country have at last become aware of the dangers which threaten their personal liberties in the chaos and confusion, in the fumbling and bungling that has been going on in Washington, and in the splinter party of the opposition still called the Democratic party.

I firmly believe that the American people have had enough and want a change. The way to bring about such a change is to vote Republican.

Cites Dewey's Record

So far as the state campaign is concerned, you are all familiar with the wonderful record of Governor Tom Dewey. His record of accomplishment tops all other states of the nation in the fields of veteran welfare, housing and education; in the fields of labor welfare, conservation, public health and state-aid to local governments. He not only did all these things, and greatly improved the administration of state departments, but while he was doing these things he also saved 550 million dollars for postwar construction; reduced state taxes by 440 million dollars; reduced unemployment insurance taxes by another 136 million, and at the same time reduced the state debt by 136 million dollars.

Compare Dewey's record in New York state with what has been going on in Washington and you will know why the voters of this state will re-elect Governor Dewey with one of the largest majorities in the history of the Empire State.

Now let me say a word about our county candidates. You will know that Ulster county, under Republican administration, has long been known for its good government. There is only one way to keep the government of Ulster county good and that is by keeping it in Republican hands.

Favors Firm Policy

Congressman Jay LeFevre in his brief remarks touched upon the policy this nation should take in dealing with Russia. He said:

Many of you know that I had the opportunity to visit Russia a year ago and I make no pretense at being a skilled and authoritative observer on that intricate subject, but I believe I can come closer to the truth than some of our so-called "fellow-travelers." Up to the time of Mr. Wallace's speech, we were making progress. Mr. Wallace kicked over the apple cart. I am in favor of a firm policy with Russia, based on a unified foreign policy. Nothing less will work! We must decide what we want, what we will give—on what we will compromise—bring it out into the open—lay it on the line and say to Uncle Joe, "Here it is, this is the path we intend to follow." That is the kind of talk, backed by action, that they understand.

Back Yard Widens

We might prefer to stay in our own back yard and mind our own business. But my friends, our back yard has widened out to include the streets of Belgrade and other foreign cities. What is going on over there is our business. Why? Because out of what is going on in those foreign cities, somebody may press a button that starts one of those atomic rockets headed for New York city, and most any town in my district, including the city of Kingston, 90 miles off the target at a distance of 6,000 miles, would be considered a near miss.

The only way to convince Russia that she is wrong is what her eyes see happening in America in the next few years. Therefore, we must keep strong—we must level off our economy without a depression; we must rise to new heights of production and a still higher standard of living.

I could go on indefinitely but I know you want to hear the "out-of-towners" tonight.

American Way Must Work

I must say a couple of words about our domestic scene. If we are to have free enterprise in this country, it will not be simply because we have been brought up on it, or because we like it better than Socialism, or Communism, or any other ism. We have to prove that our American competitive profit system can weather the storm! It Must Work! It must work better than controlled economy. It must benefit not only a handful on the top or privileged classes on the bottom. It must prove to the people of all classes everywhere over the world, that people who are free can and will choose the best things for themselves. That free people will elect and support honest men in government; in judiciary; and will abide by law and order. That labor and management will work for the good of the entire nation. What I am talking about cannot work from the top down. That is dictatorship! That is totalitarianism! It must start from the bottom—from the grass-roots. the sooner we get back to decentralized government, the sooner we are going to realize the responsibility for the peace of the world is with the individual down where the grass-roots grow!

Let us elect Republicans who will remove the shackles from American genius and work from now on to preserve our representative form of government!

Bruhn Renews Pledge

"Because of the short time allotted to me on the program tonight, I must of necessity be very brief in my remarks," said District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn. "However, I want to say here and now that because my young opponent made certain groundless charges over WKNY on Monday night, I shall most certainly avail myself of the facilities of this station at a future time to answer those charges.

"Desperation apparently leads some men to unusual extremes and he certainly must be desperate, or he would not have distorted simple logic into the Frankenstein he created, but more of that at a later time.

"When our great Governor, Thomas E. Dewey, saw fit to appoint me to the office of District Attorney of this county on April 1 of this year, I pledged myself to carry on the office in a manner comparable to that established by some of my illustrious predecessors. I feel certain that all of the law enforcing officers of this county and this city as well, with whom I have been working during the past six months or more, will bear witness to the fact that I have cooperated fully with them at all times—day or night.

"And I pledge now that if elected, I shall continue to conduct the office of District Attorney in the same manner and continue to cooperate with all the police agencies as I have in the past. I shall make myself available to the office to the end that credit will be reflected, not alone on the office, but on the party under whose emblem I seek election.

"And now as a Veteran of World War II, I should like to say a few words to the other veterans of this county. I feel certain you will not be misled or taken over by any golden promises of the opposition.

"Governor Dewey and his state administration, without any question, have done more for the veterans of this State than any other State in the Union has done for its Veterans, but what has the National Democratic Administration given us but more lines, not that we didn't have enough of those in service, delay, red tape, forms and bureaus.

"And, therefore, I ask you, have you had enough?

"Vote Republican!"

Wadlin Praises Ives

Assemblyman John F. Wadlin paid high tribute to Irving M. Ives, the Republican candidate for U. S. senator. He said that with his six years of service with Mr. Ives in the state assembly with the opportunity he had to observe his abilities, he would be remiss in his obligation to the voters of Ulster county if he did not try to tell them what he knew of Ives.

"During the six years that I have sat in the state assembly chambers, just two seats behind him," said Assemblyman Wadlin. "During this time he was the majority leader of the Republican party in the assembly, and in that capacity was the last man to speak on the closing of all debates.

"His approach to all vital issues was always above partisan politics. By that I do not mean that he is not a good Republican. I do mean that because he is a good Republican, he places the welfare of the state above the welfare of his party. As one of the outstanding leaders of the Republican party he has contributed greatly to all forward looking legislation.

Rifenbary Outlines Duties

Jay W. Rifenbary briefly outlined the duties of the office of county treasurer, and pledged that if elected he would discharge the duties honestly, faithfully and efficiently.

Coroner's Duties Important

Coroner Chipp said he realized that the duties of a coroner are important in this and every other community. If re-elected he pledged himself to continue efficient service.

Lieut. Governor Hanley and Major General Donovan were introduced to the candidates last evening by Senator Wicks at a dinner at the Governor Clinton Hotel, preceding the rally.

Truman Declines Comment

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—President Truman declined to comment today on Winston Churchill's assertion that the United States, while criticizing British Palestine policy, carries no part of the burden.

Economist Urges Policy To Bring 'Real Prosperity'

Boston, Oct. 24 (AP) Murray Shields, vice president and economist of the bank of the Manhattan Co. urged today an economic policy which would bring "real prosperity" and "another phase of glorious economic development."

In a speech at the annual meeting of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, the New York banker called upon congress to terminate the war emergency, stop labor union "abuse of the right to strike," revise S.E.C. restrictions on new securities issues, relax federal reserve bank margin regulations, and balance the budget at a low level of expenditures.

Predicting that "the present phase of frustration will in time pass" and the voters will no longer "tolerate politics which keep the nation's economic organization in low gear," Shields said the post-reconversion period would be marked by a high level of production, prices and competition, and also "a high degree of instability."

'Due for Decline'

"Agricultural prices are due for a decline," Shields predicted, "when demands for our domestic products fall off, as they must when the rehabilitation abroad transforms foreigners from consumers of our production to competitors [illegible] markets.

"Prices of labor seem destined to move upward under the impetus of pressure from organized labor.

"Prices of non-agricultural raw materials may well trend irregularly upward because of increased labor costs, or reduction in the richest or most [illegible] of supply and [illegible] in transportation [illegible]

"Prices of finished goods should rise to compensate [illegible] labor and raw materials [illegible]

"Prices of urban [illegible] especially of older houses, are likely to decline from present inflated levels when building activity increases and current shortages become less acute.

"The trend of interest rates is likely to be upward with credit terms less liberal than they were when the demand for credit was light."

Shields recommended that business men gear their production schedules "to very careful, thorough and skeptical analyses of postwar markets," maintain "reasonably conservative" inventory policies, adopt conservative financial policies and seek "a low cost position with respect to one's competitors."

Silicosis Pioneer Dies at Saranac

Dr. Leroy U. Gardner Was Laboratory Director

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Oct. 24—(AP)—Dr. Leroy U. Gardner, a pioneer in silicosis research and an international authority on the industrial disease, died last night of a heart attack. He was 57 years of age.

As director of the Saranac laboratory for the control of tuberculosis, first institution of its kind in the United States dedicated solely to the study of the disease, Dr. Gardner utilized its facilities in his silicosis research.

Dr. Gardner began his research in silicosis, a dust disease affecting the lungs, when he discovered that some stone cutters in the Barre, Vt., granite quarries were highly susceptible to tuberculosis and others in nearby Proctor, Vt., quarries were not similarly affected.

Dr. Gardner was a native of New Britain, Conn. He established himself in Saranac Lake in 1919 after the first World War in which he served in the medical corps as a captain.

Kerhonkson Veterans To Organize V.F.W. Post

Kerhonkson, Oct. 23—The veterans of Kerhonkson have applied for a charter for a local Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. They expect to receive their charter this month and already have accepted 50 applications, with more coming in every day.

The businessmen of Kerhonkson have promised full support of the organization and Mr. Rosenstock has generously allowed the use of part of his Kerhonkson factory for a meeting hall.

As their first venture the newly-organized veterans will sponsor an affair for the benefit of the Ellenville Veterans Memorial Hospital.

Man, Wife Sentenced For Stealing From Guest

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Frederick Seidel, 29, and his wife, Alice Rita, 32, both of Bayside, were sentenced to indeterminate terms in Riker's Island Penitentiary and Bedford Hills Prison for Women respectively by Queens County Judge Thomas Downs yesterday but both sentences were stayed.

The Seidels were convicted in Queens County Court Tuesday on grand larceny charges.

Judge Downs said he was exercising leniency because of the couple's three small children. He said they would not have to serve their terms as long as their behavior remained good.

The complaining witness, Denver C. Smith of Long Island City, charged that the Seidels took $200 from his pocket while he was an overnight guest at their home.

HAY FEVER
ASTHMA, CATARRH SYMPTOMS AIDED!

Sufferers Rejoice — No Injections!

New Vitamin-Type Compound Rushed Here

New hope for symptomatic relief from certain forms of dread hay fever, asthma and catarrh distress due to bronchial constriction is seen today as announcement of a vitamin-type compound reported successful in 8½% of cases tested. Employing large doses Vitamin C with other highly-effective ingredients, this new relief may now be obtained in the form of safe, easy-to-take capsules, called SYNTENON — no painful, expensive injections. Men and women who formerly suffered with agonizing hay fever, rose fever, asthma, catarrh symptoms, sneezing, sniffling misery due to bronchial constriction now tell of glorious relief after using Syntenon. This is an expensive medicine, but considering results experienced, the $2.00 it costs amounts to only a few pennies per dose and SYNTENON (caution, use only as directed) is sold with strict money-back guarantee by

Membership Cards Mailed for Concert Group; National Symphony Orchestra Here in November

Membership cards were mailed today to members of the Kingston Community Concerts Association. The cards entitle the holder to attend all in the series of concerts planned for the coming season, the first of which will be Wednesday evening, November 6, when the National Symphony Orchestra of Washington, D. C., will be presented at Kingston High School Auditorium.

One hundred musicians make up the personnel of the National Symphony Orchestra this year including 15 women who have been re-engaged for the season by Dr. Hans Kindler, permanent conductor. Organized in 1931 by Dr. Kindler it has grown to a position as one of the six leading American symphony orchestras. It opened its 16th season at Constitution Hall in Washington October 16 with the President and Mrs. Truman as well as many diplomats, cabinet members, social and military leaders in the audience.

The November concert will mark the second appearance of the orchestra in Kingston. The National Symphony gave a concert under the auspices of the Community Concerts Association at the Municipal Auditorium, December 6, 1941. Each year in addition to its regular series in Washington the orchestra plays a series in Baltimore and Richmond, Va. students' concerts in the capital's schools, as well as music festivals honoring great composers and special performances with ballet and opera companies. Its tours extend from Maine to Florida.

Selections chosen for the Kingston concert include Concerto Grosso in D. Minor, Bach-Vivaldi, transcribed for orchestra by Dr. Kindler; Symphony No. 88 in G Major, Haydn; Two Etudes, Scriabin; Excerpts from the ballet, Gayaneh, including Dance of the Rose Maidens, Lullaby, Dance with the Sabres, by Khachaturyan; Traume and Prelude to Act 1, Die Meistersinger, Wagner.

Myers-Schilling Marriage Performed At Home Ceremony

Miss Catherine Schilling, daughter of Mrs. Anna Schilling, Nutley, N. J. became the bride of Elmer H. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Myers, Lyonsville, Sunday at 3 p. m. The ceremony was performed by George Tompkins, justice of the peace, at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The bride wore a white brocaded satin gown with full length veil attached to a Queen Anne style crown. She carried white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Aura May Baker of Newark, N. J., sister of the bridegroom, as matron of honor, wore a pink brocaded satin gown and carried pink chrysanthemums. Miss Julie Zedowkal of Newark was bridesmaid and wore an orchid brocaded satin gown and carried orchid chrysanthemums.

Theodore Schilling, brother of the bride, was best man. William C. Myers was usher.

A reception was held following the ceremony. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Myers left for a wedding trip to Miami, Fla., Buffalo and Niagara Falls. The bride chose a gray suit with matching accessories and white chrysanthemum corsage for traveling. They will make their home at 371 South 18th street, Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Myers is a graduate of Nutley High School and is employed by Westinghouse at Bloomfield, N. J. Mr. Myers, a graduate of Newark, N. J. schools, served three years in the army and was stationed in the China-Burma-India theatre. He is a fireman on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Mothers' Club Holds Membership Campaign

The Mothers' Club of School No. 5 is once again organizing for the school year. A membership campaign is being conducted under the chairmanship of Mrs. William 'Lifer. All parents, teachers and persons interested in the school children are invited to join.

At the October meeting of the club Ambrose J. Boyd, school principal, explained the grouping program and the school lunch program.

The next meeting will be Thursday, November 14.

Stanley Hummel, Pianist, Gives Carnegie Hall Recital

Stanley Hummel, son of Ford Hummel, formerly of Kingston, appeared as concert pianist in a recital at Carnegie Hall Monday night. This was his first recital since his return from army service. Reviews in the New York Times praised him as "The kind of pianist who keeps general concert standards high. He is a master of technical matters, can produce quite lovely tones at all volumes, and is reasonably well adjusted to the various styles of composition for at least a century....he arouses admiration for his excellent workmanship and listening to him a quiet civil enjoyment." The New York Herald Tribune reported "it was plain his three years of service had not robbed him of his virtuosity....He showed a marked sensitivity for music that was gentle and reflective.

Calls Question Absurd

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—President Truman today described as absurd a reporter's question as to whether Attorney General Tom Clark may be replaced by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.). Wheeler was listed to see Mr. Truman after the President's news conference. Mr. Truman also described as absurd a question as to whether Associate Justice Robert H. Jackson was resigning from the Supreme Court. Both reports, he said, were too absurd for comment.

Clark Orders Stay

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark today ordered a temporary stay for 18 Estonians who had been ordered to leave Miami today. Clark directed the immigration service to try to arrange admission for the group to some country in this hemisphere, a Justice Department spokesman told reporters. The Estonians sailed in a fishing sloop from Sweden to Miami. They claimed to be political refugees.

Essay Deadline In $100 Contest Will Be Nov. 1

The deadline for filing essays in the $100 prize contest of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association is November 1, and already a number of essays written by the school children of Ulster county are in the hands of Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, chairman of the essay committee.

This contest is open to all high school and grade school pupils in the county. The topic selected is "Fire Prevention."

First prize is $25 for high school students; $15 for junior high, and the same amount for grade school contestants.

The other members of the essay committee are President Edward Mains of the association Gordon A. Craig, Secretary Fred [illegible] William Maynard of Highland, Arthur C. Chipp of Kerhonkson and Harry Zeilman of Saugerties.

Essays submitted in the contest may be mailed to Fire Chief Murphy at the Central Fire Station in Kingston.

4-H Club Member Gets $44,375 for Champion Steer

Kansas City, Oct. 24 (AP)—A 15-year-old farm boy from Ida Grove, Ia., said goodbye to his grand champion Hereford steer today and pocketed a check for $44,375—the price brought by the animal at auction at a world record price of $35.50 a pound.

Jack Hoffman, 4-H Club member whose T. O. Pride was named 1946 grand champion steer of the American Royal Livestock Show was still bewildered today by the bidding last night. E. W. Williams of the Williams Meat Company, paid the record price. American Royal officials said the previous world record price was $11.50 a pound.

The tall farm youngster and Karl Hoffman, his father, were in the main arena as the price began to climb with some 100 bid- [illegible] the opening.

"I though $4 a pound would be good," the youth said. "I figured it might go to $10 or $11 a pound. Even in hoping, I never had thought of more than $11 a pound."

As for T. O. Pride himself he will go on exhibition until Christmas. Then Williams plans to present $35.50-a-pound steaks to his friends and customers as Christmas gifts. Williams said he had been determined to have the steer at any price.

that have been completed or are under construction, and for establishment of three emergency colleges and expansion of physical facilities at private colleges.

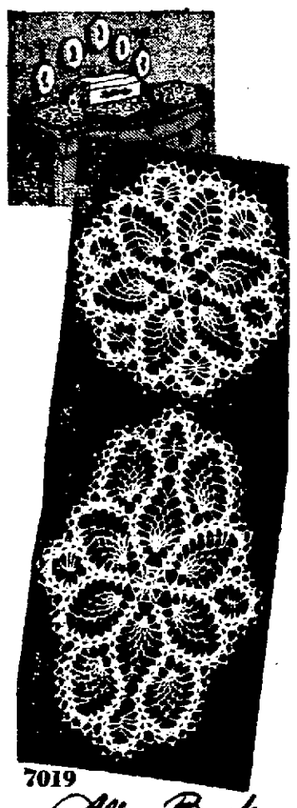

The exact amount to be sought has not been determined. But fresh money will be needed to construct the 2,500 units that are planned to reach the initial goal of 10,000 apartments set by Dewey last spring and to expand the housing program further, if possible.

After dedicating the emergency housing project, Dewey was to inspect a 250-unit permanent housing development completed last year by the Elmira Housing Authority with a $1,544,000 loan from the state low-cost housing fund.

Child Shows Grief

Superior, Wis., Oct. 24 (AP)—A 12-year-old girl whom District Attorney Andy L. Borg has said admitted she "shot daddy because I wanted mama to be happy," sobbed throughout funeral services for her father yesterday. The girl's mother, Mrs. Irene Lind, and her sister, Delores, 14, collapsed during the last rites for Clarence Lind, 39, who was fatally shot with a .22 caliber rifle while asleep in his home last Thursday. Borg said that the 12-year-old girl told him her father had beaten her and "had been mean to me . . ." Borg said no charges have been placed against the child and she would be turned over to juvenile authorities.

U.S. Enters T.W.A. Strike; Mediation Offer Accepted

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—The government stepped into the three-day old strike of 1,400 Trans World Airline Pilots today, with both sides accepting a federal mediation offer after 15,000 additional company employes were thrown out of work.

Frank Douglass, chairman of the National Mediation Board, called opposing leaders in the dispute to his office for an 11 a. m. (EST) conference.

The speed with which both parties responded to Douglass' invitation rekindled dwindling hope for an early settlement of the walkout which has grounded 115 planes, tied up 28,000 miles of routes extending from California to Arabia and paralyzed a $150,000 daily payroll.

David L. Behncke, president of the A.F.L. Air Line Pilots Association, and Jack Frye, president of T.W.A., quickly agreed to the meeting.

Douglass' telegram went out only a few hours after Frye announced that all but a few employes were being "furloughed" without pay for the duration of the strike.

The pay issues in the dispute—confusing enough with such items as base pay, hourly pay, mileage pay, differentials for day and night flying, and extra pay for flying international routes—have been further complicated by the fact that the company and the union use different working periods in computing them.

Dederick Garage Damaged by Auto That Starts Itself

A runaway automobile crashed into the garage of William Dederick, 72 Foxhall avenue, Wednesday afternoon, knocking one side of the building from its foundation and damaging the track of the doors so that they cannot be opened.

According to the Dederick family the car was owned by Charles Quibic of Manor Place. They presumed the brakes failed to hold after he had parked on the Highland avenue hill in front of the A. D. Pardee residence.

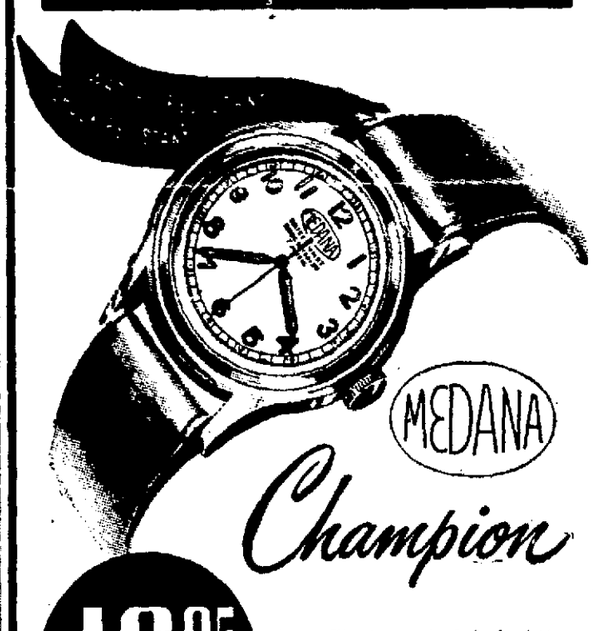

As there were no personal injuries, the accident was not reported to the police, and the extent of damages to the garage and fence, through which the auto ran, were not estimated.

It was said, the operator attempted to stop the car, after it had started, but was unable to get into the runaway vehicle.

There was one passenger car for every five persons in the United States in 1940.

Cleveland Boxers Highlight Next Wednesday's Ring Card; Burke Stresses Pass Plays During Long Maroon Workout

Ike Jenkins Pitted With Glove Champ From Ohio Stables

Dick Cunningham, Highly Rated Clevelander, Is Also on Bill; Flagg Will Fight Again

Ike Jenkins, New York welterweight, who has demonstrated to B'nai B'rith boxing patrons that he is one of the best power punchers in the amateurs, will be back in the Kingston municipal auditorium ring when the local organization runs its next show on Wednesday night, October 30.

Jenkins, matched with Jackie Keaugh, Cleveland's white Golden Gloves champion in the top five rounder, polished off Buddy Matthews, another New Yorker, by a knockout in the fifth round of their fistic duel at the Broadway arena, October 17. Previous to that he won two matches with his dynamite laden fists by stopping Paul Hawks, durable Beacon Bomber and Mike Sally, a ring veteran from Schenectady.

Ike the Best Welter

It seems to be the consensus of fight fans that Ike is the best welter among the Simon Pures, and Director of Bouts Ben M. Becker of Albany verified their contention with his remark, "Nobody wants to fight Jenkins. I had to send to Cleveland for an opponent."

Keaugh's reputation as Golden Gloves champion indicates that Jenkins will have a tough assignment next Wednesday, because the scrapper from the midwest has met and defeated some of the best boys in his district.

Johnny Wood, who handles the Clevelander, remarked in accepting the match, "We know Jenkins is a tough puncher, but Keaugh is a smart battler and can work his way out of absorbing those stingers. He's a crafty boxer, too, and has plenty of dynamite behind his blows too. This should be a whale of a scrap."

Townsend in Comeback

Dick Cunningham, stablemate of Keaugh, is matched with Tiny Townsend, who has grown from a lightweight to a light-heavy during his hitch in the army. Townsend, who fought in Kingston when the Mayor's Industrial Committe promoted amateur boxing, will be making a comeback next Wednesday, after meeting and defeating some of Uncle Sam's good service fighters, Cunningham, who tips the beam at 174, has rolled up an impressive victory string in 20 matches.

The rest of the card:

Cliff Smith, Newburgh middleweight vs. Roy Kelly, Cleveland's white 160 pounder, five rounds.

Roosevelt Flagg, Albany lightweight knockout puncher vs. Rooseveit Owens, Cleveland, five rounds.

Three Rounders

Carl Reinhardt, 195, Newburgh vs. Eddie Easeley, 200; Albany.

Hank Liebermann, Kerhonkson vs. Billy Daniels, Ravena middleweight.

Eddie Albright, Kingston lightweight vs. Johnny Davis of Albany.

Dr. Murray Greene, ticket chairman for B'nai B'rith is preparing to sell an exceptionally large order for next Wednesday's bill with Jenkins returning as a box office attraction, matched with the cream of the boxing crop in Cleveland, Jackie Keaugh.

The bouts were shifted to Wednesday on account of Halloween falling on the regular fight night, when the auditorium will be turned over to the children of Kingston for their annual party.

Recreation Officials Dine Tuesday

As a fitting climax to the 1946 baseball season here in Kingston, officials and invited guests of the Kingston Recreation baseball club held their annual post-season dinner and "Hot Stove League" session Tuesday evening at Schoentag's Hotel. Shown in the above photo seated are Bob Murray, Harry Edson, A. B. "Turk" Karam of the Brooklyn Dodgers; and Ed Coughlin. Standing are Norman Markle, assistant to Mr. Edson at the department of recreation office; Ad Jones, Irwin J. Thomas, official scorer of the club; Dick McCarthy, local sportscaster; Paul Zucca, Charlie Tiano, who handled the public address system during the season; Nick Kaslich, Manager Joe Hoffman and Joe Kelly. Harris Denies He Has Yankee Job

Bucky Says He Will Not Be Yanks' Pilot

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Stanley (Bucky) Harris, five times a major league manager, denies that he has accepted the job as 1947 pilot of the New York Yankees.

Further, he says, "I have no plans to accept it either. I am perfectly satisfied with my present job as an administrative assistant to Mr. MacPhail and have no intention of becoming field manager.

Harris was commenting on a published report that he had been selected Yankee manager Tuesday at a secret meeting attended by himself, Yankee President Larry MacPhail, American League President Will Harridge and Charley Dressen, coach of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"I just returned from Washington where I spent the week-end," said Harris last night. Previously, MacPhail had denied a meeting was held, saying he had been ill at his home and hadn't seen Harridge in three weeks.

Meanwhile, it was reliably reported from other sources that Dressen had been offered the Yankee coaching job and probably would accept.

Announcers Win Raise

Radio announcers in Argentina were feeling the squeeze of rising living costs like everybody else, but did not intend to suffer in silence. In Buenos Aires, they took to soap boxes on principal streets to air their grievances. They wanted more money and better working conditions. They did not intend to quit work but threatened a novel kind of strike. They would deliver their commercials "slowly, sadly and monotonously." In a country where radio advertising sometimes borders on frenzy, this was a dire threat. The broadcasting companies agreed to all demands.

A federal law requires that the President's salary check be written by hand.

K. A. A. Appoints Committee To Make Cage Sport Survey

Members, Officials Hint Club May Field Team; Dinner Is Planned to Honor Scribes

The possibility that the Kingston Athletic Association will enter the professional basketball field was hinted Wednesday evening during a regular meeting of the local sports organization at the Elks Club on Fair street.

President Tom Davitt, who presided, appointed a committee to investigate the field and ordered the group to make a report at the next meeting which will be held on the third Wednesday in November. The committee included Frank "Bing" Van Etten, Bill Murphy, Clarence "Dubby" Raichle and Joe Hoffman.

Will Fete Writers

Plans also were begun last evening to honor local and valley sports writers and radio announcers at a dinner to be held some time in November. This special function has been planned so that the writers will be honored for their past cooperation in Kingston Athletic Association events.

A committee including Chris Rienzo, Ed Murphy, Pat Senor, Jack Zaccheo, Sam Moss and Joe Messinger was appointed to gather information on tickets, the place and other arrangements for such an event.

Zoo Has Claims to Fame

H. B. Brown, who returned recently to the Taronga Park Zoo, in Sydney, Australia, with an assortment of hippos, elephants, rhinos and other African animals, points out that the zoo, of which he is secretary, has several unusual exhibits. One is an 11-foot shark which has been in captivity for a record period of 10 years. There is also a lyre bird which imitates all the noises of birds in the Australian bush and can even imitate the creaking of cart wheels.

Maroon J.V. Cross Country Finishes Second Wednesday

Marlborough Varsity Club Captures Meet While Nyack Is Third; Ad Munson High Man

Kingston High School's junior varsity cross country team placed second in a meet at Marlborough. The final tally showed Marlborough with 28 points, Kingston 37 and Nyack 55.

Ad Munson, Maroon runner, placed the highest for the local team when he crossed the tape in 12:15 for fourth place. The winning time was 12:02 with Marlborough taking the honors.

The first 20 places are as follows: 1—Marlborough, 12:02, winning time; 2 Marlborough; 3—Nyack, 4 Munson (K), 5 Marlborough, 6—Lodge (K), 7—R. Thorpe (K), 8—Marlborough, 9—La Tour (K), 10—Nyack, 11—Brown (K), 12—Marlborough, 13 Durham (K), 14—Burr (K), 15—G. LaTour (K), 16—Nyack, 17—Peterson (K), 18—Miller (K), 19—Nyack, 20—Holstein (K).

Horse Show Entries Many

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—With a record of 332 contestants in the open jumping division, one of the largest entry lists in the 63-year history of the National Horse Show has been compiled for the six-day affair opening at Madison Square Garden November 9. Manager Ned King announced the entries range from Canada to Virginia and Massachusetts to Ohio, with heavy entries from Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Former Local Cager Is Utica Manager

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 24 (AP)—Appointment of Horace G. (Hod) Nester of Utica as manager and coach of the Utica entry in the newly-organized New York State Professional Basketball League was announced today by Tommy Ruggiero, Utica franchise owner.

Nester played with Utica, Gloversville and Amsterdam in the old New York State League, with Kingston in the Metropolitan League, and with the Flint, Mich., Buick club.

In the last few years, he has been active in local amateur and semi-pro ranks as a coach.

Utah Leads U.S. Teams in Yardage

Average Is 439 Yards Per Game; Army Is in 15th Spot

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Although bounced out of the unbeaten class by Denver last week, Utah University continues to lead the nation's college football teams in the ground gaining department with an average of 439 yards per game on both running plays and forward passes.

Behind Utah in the total offensive averages announced today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau come Notre Dame, U.C.L.A., Nevada Pennsylvania, Texas, Arizona, Boston College, Georgia and Detroit, in that order.

A notable absentee among the offensive leaders is mighty Army, which has just worked its way up to 15th place although it is recognized as the best in the land and has not been beaten since 1943.

Today, Army's Black Knight's hold an average of 340.2 yards by both rushing and passing for five games. Their average of 5.67 yards per play for 300 plays is far short of their eight yard average of a year ago.

First Whirl Takes Keeneland Race

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 24 (AP)—First Whirl, the first son of Whirlaway whose birth out of foaling season drew some uplifted eyebrows among thoroughbred breeding interests, won a race at Keeneland yesterday to give his all-time champion money-winning papa a rousing send off as a potential champion sire.

Unlike the immortal Whirly, First Whirl moved to the front early and ran hard to withstand the challenge of favored Matty M. Whirlaway is remembered for his great stretch runs.

First Whirl made his racing debut last week and yesterday's start was his second. He broke from No. 12 post position in the first race and was in the thick of the fight from flagfall to finish. He had a nose out front after two furlongs but was not up to a victory.

It was a different story yesterday, however, and the game son of the champion Mr. Longtail held on stubbornly to prove his blood.

Rodeo Will Draw $1,500,000 Into Garden Register

Final Attendance May Reach 650,000; Stock Is Mostly Owned By Texan

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Riding the old Manhattan trail for the 21st time, the lean weather-beaten cowhands from the Far West are giving blase New Yorkers their annual taste of live horse opera with the "World Championship Rodeo."

Sophisticates who look down the end of the nose at such "corn" may be surprised to learn that the cow "rasslin" will draw about $1,500,000 into the Madison Square Garden coffers during its 52-performance stand. Only the circus does better.

Unofficial estimates place the total attendance at 650,000 by the time of the Sunday night closing.

Everett Colborn, a ranch operator from Dublin, Texas, owns most of the 700-head herd of stock used in the two-hour performance and is a major stockholder in the organization that runs the annual event. Gene Autry, the star performer and radio and movie ace, also owns a piece of the show as does the garden corporation.

Current leader of the 200 competing cowboys is a 24-year-old rider from Red Lodge, Montana, Bud Linderman, who has been at the business seven years or since he was only 17. If it wasn't for a broken neck that sidelined his brother Bill for the rest of the season, Bud probably still would be just a runnerup. The elder Linderman boy was the all-around champion cowboy last year and led in 1946 until he was injured in August at Deadwood, S. D.

Figures to Take $7,500

Top man of the New York show figures to take away about $7,500 of the $154,040 prize money. But the season, now almost over, runs about 11 months and rewards its highest winner with $25,000 income.

Strangest quirk of the entire rodeo setup to the average bystander is the fact that all contestants have to pay entry fees and no regular salaries are dished out. The cowhands must subsist on prize money which sometimes runs thin for the less skilled or unlucky members. They compete on an average of once every five performances.

Although the average hand grosses about $4,000 annually, Earl Lindsey, business representative of the boys, figures a man has a good year if he winds up with $3,000 net to take back home for the winter.

Toots Mansfield, cow roper from Rankin, Texas, heads a form of trade union known as the Rodeo Cowboys Association whose main function is to assure a continued flow of guaranteed prize money from the various promoters.

Efforts to line up the cow hands for an accident insurance policy failed, according to Mansfield, because not enough of them were interested in paying the fee, estimated at $6 per year.

As matters stand today, an injured cowboy must pay his own hospital expenses, although the association is prepared to come to the rescue with a timely loan. In New York, the Garden rodeo takes care of all expenses but elsewhere the performer is on his own.

But despite broken legs, concussions and rib fractures the cowboys keep coming back for more, some of them until they are 50 years old.

Bonham Has Said Goodbye to Yanks

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—The New York Yankees bid goodbye today to Ernie Bonham, veteran right handed pitcher, in their second move since the end of the baseball season to rebuild for 1947.

Waived out of the American League, the 33-year-old Bonham was traded to the Pittsburgh Pirates for Art Cuccurullo, 27-year-old southpaw pitcher, and another player or players to be named at a later date.

Cuccurullo, a native of Asbury Park, N. J., pitched for Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League the past season. He worked in 37 games and struck out 101 men, finishing the season with eight victories and 12 defeats.

Bonham is the second Yankee regular to be traded in recent weeks. During the World Series, President Larry MacPhail announced that Second Baseman Joe Gordon had been traded to the Cleveland Indians for Pitcher Allie Reynolds.

Four Varsity Men Miss Wednesday Afternoon's Drill

Lou Fuoco Not Expected to Play Friday Night; Second Stringers Play Good Ball Again

Kingston High School's football team, with all hopes of a DUSO League championship, riding on Friday night's big DUSO League encounter with Newburgh Free Academy at the municipal stadium, was sent through another long drill lasting into darkness Wednesday afternoon by Coaches Willard Burke and Russ Cunningham.

Once again all emphasis was placed on improving the team's pass defense in view of Newburgh's fine showing against Middletown's aerial-minded team last Saturday afternoon when N.F.A. soundly spanked the Middie, 33 to 21.

Four Players Out

With his varsity squad trimmed down by injuries to four players—Lou Fuoco, Tom McGrane, Harry Koch and Vince DeLuca—Burke was forced to shift his warriors around so that Don Laidlaw was the first string center while Owen "Babe" Riggins took over the middle slot for the second stringers. All except Fuoco, however, are expected to be ready for tomorrow night's big struggle.

There didn't seem to be too many at yesterday's practice who failed to stamp the present Maroon and White club as a "hot and cold" outfit. The team looked just that Wednesday when Cunningham's second stringers plowed through for a couple of touchdowns while the varsity failed to hit the stride which it displayed last Saturday in whipping Port Jervis, 12 to 0.

Kingston must whip out a capable pass defense for Friday or else face a rough evening from start to finish. Last week against Middletown, Newburgh intercepted seven Middie passes which turned out to be the payoff. At the same time, Newburgh completed five out of 11 passes for a total yardage gain of 117 yards.

The Maroon running attack, although not functioning up to par is still headed by the number one line smasher, Captain Arn Bellini and his capable sidekick, Bill Kitsos, who is fast becoming another battering ram.

Dee Titus, the signal-caller, was the main pass heaver Wednesday but this time the trouble was on the receiving end where Mike Rienzo and Ed McCardle failed to measure up to past standards. During yesterday's rehearsal Coach Burke called on young Joe Albany as a replacement for McCardle on the first string eleven.

Kingston's varsity forward wall shaped up as a starter with Mike Rienzo, Vince Carpino, Charlie Bouton, Don Laidlaw, Joe Carroll, Eddie Weaver and Ed McCardle while Titus, Buddy Jones, Bill Kitsos and Arn Bellini took over the secondary. Paul Novichek divided duties with Carpino while Bill Blume, a big star last Saturday, saw action in the backfield.

Middies Next Week

After Friday's night attraction at the stadium, which is the final home game of the season, the Maroon eleven travels to Middletown next Friday night for another league clash.

Seals Re-Sign O'Doul

Frank "Lefty" O'Doul will be back with the San Francisco Seals in the Pacific Coast League next year ending many rumors that he might sign to pilot either the New York Giants or Yankees in 1947. "I have just signed the best contract in baseball," he said at a testimonial dinner given for him Wednesday night.

Red Sox Place Four Players On '46 Major Loop All Stars

Seven Junior Leaguers, Three Nationals, All Cardinals, on Squad Picked by Writers

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Dominated by the Boston Red Sox with four members, the 1946 Major League All-Star Team chosen for the Associated Press by 122 baseball writers showed a strong American League complexion, with seven representatives to the National League's three.

The St. Louis Cardinals, World Series conquerors of the Red Sox, landed all three National League positions.

One player from Detroit, Cleveland and the New York Yankees completed the roster and gave the American League its huge majority.

Of the 10 men selected (two pitchers were named), eight are former servicemen.

Williams Tops Balloting

No player was a unanimous choice. Ted Williams drew the most support, the Boston Red Sox outfielder being named in 120 of the 122 ballots cast. Bobby Doerr, his teammate, ranked next with 117 votes. Then came Hal Newhouser, Detroit Tiger ace lefthander, with 102, and Stan Musial of the Cardinals, with 96. Musial received 81 votes for first base, the rest for center and right fields.

The selections:

Outfielders—Ted Williams, Red Sox; Dom DiMaggio, Red Sox; and Enos Slaughter, Cardinals.

First Base—Stan Musial, Cardinals.

Second Base—Bobby Doerr, Red Sox.

Third Base—George Kurowski, Cardinals.

Shortstop—Johnny Pesky, Red Sox.

Catcher — Aaron Robinson, Yankees.

Pitchers—Hal Newhouser, Tigers, and Bob Feller, Indians.

The closest race developed for third base when Kurowski nosed out George Kell of the Tigers, 57 to 55. The widest divergence of opinion involved the catchers, nine receiving support.

One of the biggest surprises was the failure of Hank Greenberg, the majors' home run and runs batted in king, to receive a single vote.

Newhouser and Feller, Mr. Left and Mr. Right respectively, had little competition among the pitchers. Only three other hurlers, Dave (Boo) Ferriss of the Red Sox, Howie Pollet of the Cardinals and Johnny Sain of the Boston Braves, received mention.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, who won three games for the Cards in the recent World Series, did not get a vote.

Has Tremendous Punch

The all-star squad represents a tremendous punch at the plate. Led by Musial with .365 and Williams, with .342, the team's composite batting average, not including the pitchers, is .318.

Meantime, pitchers Newhouser and Feller, tied for the most victories at 26 apiece, had a combined total of 52 wins against 24 defeats. Included were 16 shutouts, one no-hitter and two one-hitters.

Vote of the scribes follows:

Outfielders—Williams, Red Sox, 120; D. DiMaggio, Red Sox, 74; Slaughter, Cardinals, 59; F. Walker, Dodgers, 45; Musial, Cardinals, 18; J. DiMaggio, Yankees and Johnny Hopp, Braves, 13; Pete Reiser, Dodgers, 10; Charlie Keller, Yankees, 3; Phil Cavarretta, Cubs and Del Ennis, Phillies, 1.

First base—Musial, Cardinals, 81; Mickey Vernon, Senators, 24; Johnny Mize, Giants, 8; Cavarretta, Cubs, 4; York, Red Sox, 2.

Second base—Doerr, Red Sox, 117; Ed Stanky, Dodgers and Al Schoendienst, Cardinals, 2; Gerry Priddy, Senators, 1.

Third base — Kurowski, Cardinals, 57; Kell, Tigers, 55; Ken Keltner, Indians and Grady Hatton, Reds, 4; Bill Johnson, Yankees, Jim Tabor, Phils and Augie Galan, Dodgers, 1.

Shortstop—Pesky, Red Sox, 49; Boudreau, Indians, 32; Marion, Cardinals, 27; Reese, Dodgers, 13; Kerr, Giants, 1.

Catchers — Robinson, Yankees, 58; Bruce Edwards, Dodgers, 18; Walker Cooper, Giants, 14; Phil Masi, Braves, 12; Hal Wagner, Red Sox, 10; Buddy Rosar, Athletics, 6; George Tebbetts, Tigers, 2; Andy Seminick, Phils and Ernie Lombardi, Giants, 1.

Pitchers — Newhouser, Tigers, 102; Feller, Indians, 85; Ferriss, Red Sox, 38; Pollet, Cardinals, 15; Sain, Braves, 4.

Better Bowling

By BILLY SIXTY

FINGER LIFT: The action of putting stuff on the ball in bowling—to impart hook spin—can be accomplished either with a wrist turn or with what is called a "finger lift." One method is as effective as the other, and which to use can readily be determined in practice.

By all means, however, some turn should be given the ball, because a ball coming into the pins from right to left "opens up the strike pocket" between the 1-3 pins. It widens the "strike hole", in other words; calls for less accuracy than a straight ball. A ball with a spin on it mixes the pins for what are termed "spiller" hits.

In applying hook-spin with the finger lift, with either a two or a three-fingered ball, the hand is kept well behind and slightly to the right side of the ball (see illustration at left) during the swing, up to the moment of release. At that point the ball is pulled upward with the finger (or finger)—it is "lifted" a little, and in so doing the hook-spin is applied (illustration at right).

The finger lift should be imparted easily, immediately before the ball is released. It should be done smoothly, without the slightest speeding up of the wrist turn. Hurrying wrist action reduces the follow-through and chills control.

Bernborough May Race at Santa Anita If Bans Are Raised

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Australia's greatest race horse since Phar Lap is about even money to take a trip across the Pacific this winter to do some stepping at Santa Anita.

His tag is Bernborough. He's a huge, seven-year-old bay, with the biggest set of shoulders they've seen in Australia in years. The only reason you haven't heard of him before now is because his owners, until last winter, weren't chummy with the racing powers that be, and because of that, he was forbidden to show his stuff on the big apple down under.

Last Saturday, Bernborough was beaten for the first time this year after coming home on top in 15 straight. Even then, he came flying from last place to finish fifth in a field of 27. And he packed 150 pounds, spotting everything else in the race up to 46 pounds.

The large barrier in front of Bernborough's trip to the United States this winter is in present Australian quarantine restrictions which would prevent his going back home once he left.

Agency Will Close

The Ulster County Veterans Service Agency will not be open Friday night, in deference to the Veterans of Foreign Wars ball and the Kingston-Newburgh DUSO League football game.

Sisler achievement award for meritorious World Series play, shows his bandaged finger, hurt in the final series game, to Terry Moore, veteran Cardinal outfielder who underwent an operation at St. Louis for removal of a broken cartilage from his right knee. Emerick's Ladies' League

Margie Jansen continued her topnotch bowling in the Emerick's Ladies' League Tuesday night at the Central Recreation alleys when she fired a 218 single and 536 triple for the Mayorettes who dumped Elstons in three straight. Marge's fine scores were followed by Etta Ginder who rolled 524 and Reta Fredericks who clipped the maples for a 508 three-timer.

Only three other 500 triples were blasted in the league with Evelyn Dolson carving herself a 528 for Sams who took two from Singers. Her high was 191. Marge Van Alstyne banged a 521 with 192 high for Sterleys who captured a pair from Fullers while B. Webber posted a 506 series for Schneiders who won all three from Schwenks.

Pennsy Line May Live in History As One of Hardest

Philadelphia, Oct. 24 (AP)—The seven pillars of Pennsylvania who make up the University of Pennsylvania's staunch forward wall may go down in gridiron history along with the seven iron dukes of Duke and the seven blocks of granite of Fordham.

Rae Crowthers, Penn's line coach, says he believes he has perhaps one of the finest lines in Penn's history. He won't compare that forward wall with the all-time greats, but many fans who have seen Penn roll up 145 points in three games rate that line with the best.

The seven pillars of Pennsylvania, which meets Navy here Saturday rank second in defense against rushing in the nation, having held three opponents to an average ground gain of only 49.7 yards. Harvard is the only college to beat that mark, having restricted its opponents to 8.5 yards per game.

Slaughter May Miss 1947 Season

Injuries Related During Matrimony Trial

Injuries received during the 1946 world series may keep Enos Slaughter from playing next year, the Cardinal outfielder told a Chicago Superior Court Judge Wednesday. The statement won him a 50 per cent reduction in temporary separate maintenance payments to his wife.

Slaughter's attorneys told the court that he suffered two broken ribs and an injured elbow in the fall classic and it was doubtful he would be able to play next season.

Hogan, 160 Others Start Richmond Play

Richmond, Va., Oct. 24 (AP)—Methodical Ben Hogan, professional golf's leading money winner of 1946 from Hershey, Pa., tees off with 160 other contestants today in the opening round of the $10,000 Richmond open golf tournament, favored to repeat his victory of 1945 over the tricky Hermitage Country Club course.

Gerry Moore, traveling secretary of the Professional Golfers Association, went on record with the forecast that it would take at least a 284 to win the 72-hole event over the par 72 layout.

Besides Hogan, leading in total money with $37,877, those in the "top ten" competing here include Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y.; Herman Keiser of Akron, Ohio; Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., the British open king and sentimental favorite in the tourney here; Jim Ferrier of Chicago; and Dick Metz of Arkansas City, Kans.

Barron is third leading money winner, Keiser fifth, and Ferrier and Metz rank eighth and ninth, respectively.

The entire field will go the rounds today and tomorrow, but Saturday it will be cut to the low 60 and ties who will finish up Sunday.

Americanization Class Starts Monday Night

The Americanization Class at the Kingston night school will open Monday evening at 7:30, with Raphael Klein in charge. The class will meet in Room 158 at the high school.

Enrollment in the class in business law and bookkeeping is rather small and a few more students are needed to keep it going. Those already enrolled are eager to go on with the work and are hoping that others interested in the class will sign up.

Shortage Dries Up Town

Driest town in the British Isles now is Halifax, Yorkshire, where the Brewers' Association recently decided to close all public-houses, except at the week-end, when they may open for an hour at noon and two hours in the evening. The wettest town, London reports, is Ballaghadereen, in Eire, which never yet has suffered from a shortage of beer or spiritous liquors. There, the population of 1,100 is served by 64 licensed premises. There is one public-house for just about every 17 persons in the town and one for about every five men.

What It Cost for Power

Last year the trolley coach, street car and gas bus companies of America spent more than $106,000,000 for electric power, gasoline, diesel oil, coal and lubricants.

Halloween Parade And Big Party to Be Held Thursday

The annual Halloween party for the children of Kingston will be held on Thursday evening, October 31, under the auspices of the recreation department, the American Legion and the 40 & 8.

This year the parade of the children in costume will be resumed. The children uptown will form at Academy Green, and those from downtown will start from the foot of Broadway.

This parade, which has been omitted for several years, is always one of the highlights of the evening.

Both the uptown and the downtown groups will march to the municipal auditorium, where the grand march will be held, and prizes awarded for the most horrible costume, most comical, witch, cowboy, boy dressed as girl, girl dressed a boy, patriotic boy, patriotic girl, pirate, novelty and a grand prize for the most original costume.

Following the grand march and the awarding of prizes, Henry Millonig will show an appropriate program of movies.

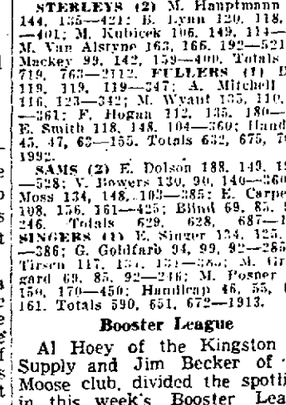

This annual party has always been a great success and it is expected that more than a thousand children will take part in the parade and festivities.

The recreation department today expressed its appreciation to the B'nai B'rith in relinquishing the use of the auditorium for the party that night.

Emu Steaks Favored

The flesh of the emu is good eating, according to an old cattleman from the Queensland district of Australia. Steaks cut from the ribs and hips of the great bird are equal to the best beef steaks, he said in Brisbane. He has also eaten carpet snakes and goannas (lizards), broiled or roasted, when he had to, during the rainy season. He describes the reptiles as excessively greasy and possessed of a powerful wild taint. Otherwise, they are better than no meat at all and so are the flying foxes.

Churchill Query Embarrasses Anglo Labor Government

Asks Whether Russians Have 200 Divisions on War Footing in Europe

London, Oct. 24 (AP)—Winston Churchill appeared today to have embarrassed both the labor government and some of his own followers by his inquiry in the House of Commons last night as to whether Russia was maintaining 200 divisions on a war footing in Soviet-occupied eastern Europe.

There were strong indications that the government had intended Prime Minister Clement Attlee's call for a review of the use of the veto in the Security Council—timed to coincide with the United Nations assembly meeting in New York—as the main point of a two-day debate on foreign affairs.

The British Press generally treated it as such, with no papers supporting Churchill, and the Times administered a rare editorial spanking to the war time prime minister for tossing his bombshell into the closing hours of the debate.

"Public debate on the degree of mobilization of an Ally can only stimulate further alarmist talk of war throughout the world," the Times said. "Nor is it any excuse that the Russians embarked first on these melancholy mathematics," referring to Russian demands to know British strength in Greece and Egypt.

Hector McNeil, British minister of state, replied to Churchill some hours after the former prime minister put his question with the information that the government was "unable to say" whether Churchill's figure of 200 divisions was correct or what proportion was on a war footing.

"A more definite statement by the government will be needed," said the Times, "if only to undo the harm done by the way Mr. Churchill chose to put his question. It should have been put first to the government in private."

McNeil, in his response to Churchill, said it was "well known there are very considerable Russian forces" in eastern Europe and that he would admit that what gives cause for alarm is that the Soviet seems to continue to build up areas which one might construe as areas of defense."

"Yet I think th... capable of explanation," he ..., with a comment that one ...n's defense moves often look "...muzzle-ended" to other countries.

France Faces Problem

France is having a harder time getting her 4,000,000 ex-servicemen back to civil life than are the United States and Britain, because of the difficulty in defining who are servicemen and who are not, Paris reports. Nearly half the Frenchmen who fought in World War II were not regular soldiers, but nomadic guerilla fighters, prisoners-of-war, or slave laborers. All these groups claim ex-servicemen's privileges. A 12-man commission was named by the Ministry of Veterans to go through the records and find the answer.

U. S. Court Hits Decision Against Mail Order Firm

St. Louis, Oct. 24—(AP)—In a unanimous decision quashing a directive of the National Labor Relations Board, the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday upheld the right of Montgomery Ward and Co., Inc., of Kansas City, Mo., to present its views to employes on the question of a scheduled N.L.R.B. collective bargaining election in January, 1944.

"The right of free speech guaranteed by the constitution is not limited to any class and is not denied to an employer, the court ruled, declaring that an employer is "not required to stand mute" because of the National Labor Relations Act and that he has the right to defend himself and maintain his employes' loyalty.

The ruling exonerated the company of anti-union motives in the release of six employes and refused to order the company to comply with an N.L.R.B. directive to re-hire them.

The free speech issue involved a talk by James A. Barr, labor relations manager for Ward's, several days before an N.L.R.B. election to select a bargaining agent.

A union-organizing publication circulated among employes had termed working conditions "rotten" and described Sewell Avery, corporation head, as "Fascist minded."

"We think they furnish a setting which indicates that Montgomery Ward was meeting and joining an issue before its own employes with those who were assailing it," the opinion said.

In the election, the 1,876 mail order employes chose to be represented by no union; 205 retail store employes chose a C.I.O. union; 18 maintenance workers selected an A.F.L. union.

In Washington, Louis Silverberg, N.L.R.B. information director, said the decision was similar to other appellate and supreme court rulings in the past which held that an employer's speech free of threats was privileged.

In the St. Louis case, the court undoubtedly differed from the board's interpretation and appraisal of the facts involved," he said.

Will Buy Houses

New York, Oct. 24—(AP)—Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet representative to the United Nations, and important members of his delegation plan to move in Manhattan's fashionable upper East Side by purchasing three town houses at a reported cost of more than $600,000.

Negotiations are almost completed for the purchase of the three houses on East 79th street, real estate sources said today.

The five-story houses, built about 40 years ago, are of limestone facade and contain extensive panelings and bronze fittings.

Death Called Suicide

Shreveport, La., Oct. 24 (AP)—The death of 31-year-old John H. Overton, Jr., son of the United States senator, from a pistol wound here last night was classified as a suicide by Dr. Harry W. Paul, deputy coroner of Caddo parish. Overton, an assistant U. S. attorney, was found dead in his office in the federal building here.

As many as 2,200 separate areas of metropolitan London were evacuated because of unexploded bombs during the height of the "blitz."

Americans to Help Sugar Situation, if They Send Protests

United States," would "keep you on a war-time basis years after the peace," it is declared.

The plan has been proposed by Howard R. Tolley, formerly of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, now director of the division of economics and statistics of the food and agricultural organization of the U.N., according to Lamborn and Co. They note that "Tolley proposes that by the year 1950 the total American supply of sugar (and syrups) should be depressed by 12 6/10 per cent under the total pre-war consumption—despite the fact that our population in 1950 is expected to be 13,500,000 more than in 1940."

Declaring that this year the United States Government approved the allocation of hundreds of thousands of tons of sugar from our sources of supply for movement abroad—some going to countries behind the so-called "Iron Curtain," it is held that "Relief for famine is one thing, but appeasement never succeeds, whether the appeased is friend or foe."

Although the total production of sugar in 1947 in those areas normally supplying the United States will be tremendous, over 9,000,000 tons, it is stated, the question is asked, "How much will you get, and how much will our Washington bureaucrats send to other shores?"

Need for Sugar

Lamborn & Co. find that sugar is indispensable for a well-balanced American diet. "Without it," they said, "you would not have most of the canned fruits and preserves, a large amount of canned milk, ice cream, candy, soft drinks, cakes, pies and many other foods. Most cereals and many fresh fruits are unpalatable without sugar. Millions of Americans today are obliged to use saccharine (a coal tar produce having no food value) in their coffee."

Because of sugar shortage millions of dollars worth of fruits in the United States are said to have gone to waste, farming communities having suffered not only the loss of fruit, but the food values that the canned or preserved fruit would have given.

Also, it is noted, housewives cannot prepare satisfactory meals, or do their baking, without an adequate supply of sugar; while labor in the food processing industry has been thrown out of work because of the sugar shortage.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

PATTERSON, JENNIE S. Pursuant to order of Surrogate John B. Sterley, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Jennie S. Patterson, late of the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, deceased to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the undersigned at the office of his attorney, Martin F. Comeau, 254 Fair Street, Kingston, New York, at or before the 26th day of December, 1946.

Dated June 26, 1946

MARTIN F. COMEAU, Esq.
254 Fair Street
Kingston, New York
Attorney for Executor

INVITATION TO BIDDER

Sealed proposals will be received by the Commissioners of the Board of Public Works of the City of Kingston, N. Y. at its office in the City Hall, 108 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y. until 3:00 P. M., E.S.T., Friday, October 25th, 1946 at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

Proposals are invited on Contract No. 1—For the construction of a Sanitary Sewer on Valentin Avenue between Pearl Street and Linderman Avenue in the City of Kingston, N. Y. on which contract the approximate quantities of items for the comparison of bids is as follows:

880 Lin. Ft. 8" V. T. Pipe Sewer
288 Lin. Ft. 6" V. T. Pipe Sewer
24 Y Branches 6" or 8" V. T. Pipe
4 Manholes

Proposals must be submitted on forms furnished by the Board of Public Works. These forms, together with other contract documents including plans and specifications, may be obtained from the Department of Engineering, A. F. Hallinan, City Engineer, City Hall, upon the deposit of Five ($5.00) Dollars, which will be refunded upon the return of documents in good order within ten (10) days after the opening of bids. These documents may be examined free of charge at the above office of the Department of Engineering.

Each Proposal must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or for the amount of ten percent (10%) of the total amount bid, which will be returnable upon the non-acceptance of bid or the execution of the contract. No bids may be withdrawn for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening of bids.

The Commissioners expressly reserve the right to waive any informality in or to accept any bid, or to reject any or all bids, or to award on any or all items, as the interest of the City of Kingston may appear to require.

By order of the Board of Public Works of the City of Kingston, New York.

Women May Form Their Legion Post

spoke on the formation of a new Department Committee on Housing and requested names of possible committee members. He also extended an invitation to attend the area meeting of the Third, Fourth and Fifth Districts to be held in the Hotel Ten Eyck, Albany, on Sunday, October 27 at 2 o'clock.

The proposed constitution and by-laws were adopted as submitted and it was ordered distributed to the various county posts for action at the November 26 meeting in Ellenville.

The question of lack of blood donors and the shortage of local Blood Banks was referred to a special committee headed by George Nichols.

County Organizer Earl Haley reported the formation of a new Legion Post in the Town of Olive. A motion was presented and adopted that the application for a temporary charter for this Post be approved and sent to Department Headquarters.

The report of the Americanism Committee was read and a motion was presented and adopted setting aside the sum of $10 for the use of the Americanism and Oratorical chairman.

Membership chairman, Lewis Van De Mark, reported a membership of 562 in Ulster county.

The meeting was adjourned with the usual Legion ceremonies and refreshments were served by the Walkill unit of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

The average life-span in Revolutionary War days was about thirty-five and a half years.

Cranberries are the chief export crop of Massachusetts.

Will Issue Statement

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—President Truman told his news conference today that he will issue a statement on the federal budget later in the day. He gave no indication of the nature of the statement, but it reportedly will be intended to clarify the status of spending for civilian public works among other things. The White House announcement came while the Army and Navy pressed toward a $1,650,000,000 economy goal set by the President.

In a test it was found that when penicillin was used daily in the tooth powder oral bacteria dropped from an average of 72,000 to 300 in three weeks.

The Chinese centuries ago used bamboo pipelines to transport natural gas for heat and light.

Justice Bookstein Gives Court Views

ever, acquaint his constituency with the principles and philosophy to which he personally adheres.

It is because I am convinced that so to do is entirely within keeping of the custom to which we subscribe that I shall limit my remarks to a few simple statements by which I hope to acquaint you to some extent with the person who may one day be called upon to protect the rights and liberties of each and every one of you.

My own background is not steeped in tradition except the American tradition of being freeborn and facing a struggle for existence. I have great reverence for our system of government, which guarantees equal opportunity to all—a system designed for people to support the government and not for government to support the people.

Attorney for 34 Years

I have practiced my profession for over 34 years. On April 10th last, I was signally honored by appointment to the Supreme Court by Governor Thomas E. Dewey and have been serving in that capacity daily ever since. Throughout the period during which I have been privileged to render service in my present and former capacities, there has been a fixed determination on my part to be devoted to my duties, to be impartial, independent and fair.

You may rest assured that I shall be prompted by the same ideals in the future, and I should like to add that it is my firm conviction that the Constitution and the principles it embodies are, so far as the judiciary is concerned, the touch-stone of our legal system. The basic element of freedom of speech, of worship, and of the press are the core of that system.

If you have ever seen justice portrayed by an artist or a sculptor, you have inevitably seen the figure of a woman, garbed in a pure and flowing robe holding in her hands the scales of justice evenly balanced, and over her eyes a blindfold.

This is not to indicate that justice is blind, as justice administered blindly would necessarily result in injustice.

Rather it is to indicate that justice is and must be blind to and entirely uninfluenced by the parties who have recourse to its administrators.

It is to illustrate that before the bar of justice all men are equal—the rich and the poor, the high and the low, the powerful and the weak.

Citizen and Human Being

Before the bar of justice, man stands shorn of all extraneous consideration. He is a citizen and a human being—no more and no less, and the law applies to him as to every fellowman.

As a Justice of the Supreme Court, I have been and shall continue to be motivated by the principles and ideals which all real Americans hold dear, and I shall be moved neither by fear nor by favor. I subscribe wholeheartedly to one basic concept, and that is democracy, American style, in which the judiciary is one of the three branches of government, existing solely to preserve the rights and liberties as well as the dignity of the individual.

I subscribe wholeheartedly to the doctrine of an ancient philosopher who said that a "judge should listen courteously, answer wisely, consider soberly and decide impartially."

In closing, may I say that it has been a great pleasure to be with you tonight, and that I have enjoyed the privilege of holding Court here this past summer, and express the hope that during the next fourteen years I shall have the privilege of holding Court here frequently.

Ohio is the nation's largest producer of Bessemer and electric furnace steels.

Soap for Y. M. C. A.

The soap shortage at the local Y.M.C.A. was ended this week when Harry Friedman, a local resident and member of the "Y" here, gave to Bert Tandy, secretary, a case of guest-size soap to be used in the steam baths and for the basketball players. Mr. Friedman has been a member of the Y.M.C.A. in New York state for the past 41 years. Vote to Accept Pact

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Members of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (C.I.O.) here today voted, 1,549 to 93, to accept an agreement reached between the union and the companies and agents of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts as a basis of settlement of the strike which began October 1.

Three Bars Robbed

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Three West Side bars were robbed within 15 minutes today, police said, by a holdup gang which netted a total of $320. The leader had a scarred face, police said, and in each holdup he and the men with him first ordered and downed drinks before scooping up money from cash registers at gun point. The robberies occurred at 2 a. m. (E.S.T.), 2:08 a. m., and 2:15 a. m.

Striplin Is Sentenced

Los Angeles, Oct. 24 (AP)—Eugene Striplin, who confessed kidnaping and robbing showman Earl Carroll of $240 in cash and stealing his automobile, was sentenced yesterday to serve from five years to life in San Quentin prison. He was arrested a few hours after the robbery, Oct. 4.

Livestock Arrivals Continue Decline

However, Outlook Brighter for Supplies in Week

Chicago, Oct. 24—(AP)—All livestock classes continued to decline in numbers on sale today, but most of the nation's swamped terminal markets expected to be out from under their heavy holdover supplies by this week-end.

Embargoes which had been laid on at some points were being lifted entirely or relaxed and prospects were brighter for increased receipts next week.

With lower receipts on hand today, early indications were prices would be higher. The Chicago hog market opened at $1.00 a hundred pounds higher with a top of $24.00.

Total estimated receipts at 12 principal markets were 45,700 hogs today, compared with 47,800 yesterday, 104,403 a week ago, and 28,627 a year ago. Cattle were estimated at 46,000 today, 51,200 yesterday, 102,017 last Thursday, and 39,216 a year ago. Sheep were down to 41,700 today, 54,256 yesterday, 78,246 a week ago, and 47,158 a year ago.

Chicago led both the hog and cattle markets with 10,000 and 7,500 on sale respectively. Denver brought in 12,500 sheep to lead that category.

Clues Are Sought

Baltimore, Oct. 24 (AP)—Police sought clues today to the identity of a 2-months-old baby girl found dead beneath a pew of St. Mary's Catholic Church. Physicians at Union Memorial Hospital said the baby had been dead "several hours" when the body was discovered yesterday. An autopsy to determine the cause of death will be made today.
